Much Snow Falling.

One of the most successful events of the Halloween season in this city was the Epworth League Social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Green on last Friday evening. About 50 guests were present and delightful games were played to a late hour when refreshments were served. The Rebekah's social in the Odd Fellows hall on Saturday night was very successful from every point of view. A good social time was enjoyed by the large crowd present and a neat sum was netted for the purpose for which it was intended. The $20 cleared will go to the boys and girls in the Odd Fellows home in Portland. county on the grounds that they have made Enterprise a challenge and she has refused to play. One week ago Saturday the two rival towns met and although the Josephites fought with the spirit of the great chief for whom the town was named, the husky eleven from the county seat defeated them by the close score of 3 to 0.

Joseph then wanted to play two more games to determine the championship. This, enterprise refused to do. The grounds for refusing their fractious brothers more contests were that the feeling is now altogether too bitter between the two towns and that no more football should be played to make matters worse. It has been a well known fact that the games between the two towns have amounted to the most savage battles and Enterprise has seen fit to call a halt. On these grounds Joseph claims the plonship. Both Enterprise and Joseph have made offers to La Grande for games.
