ANOTHER CHANGE DUE

ANOTHER HELPER STATION IS TO BE MOVED MAYBE

Such Action is Being Rumored About In Road Circles.

That another important move in the matter of helper stations is under way is evident from the rumors going the railroad rounds. This time it is to be at Telocaset, the first helper station East of La Grande, where rumored changes are to occur. It is said that the station now maintained at Telocaset is to be moved to North Powder, to have entire headquarters there. This would ofcourse be delightful to the crews now at the summit. The story of the proposed changes says that the Telocaset point as a station is to be stricken from the railroad map.

Sauce for the Turkey.
New York, Nov. 8.—Crop reports from the cranberry districts compiled today, show a bumper yield in many sections, and there will be no lack of sauce for the turkey. The total estimated crop in North America is given at 1,700,000 bushels. Massachusetts reports 269,107 bushels, a gain of 32 per cent over last year's yield. New Jersey has 192,612 bushels in sight, 80 per cent more than last season and Long Island and Wisconsin report big crops. Nova Scotia has scarcely any bog fruit at all and may have to import. Rhode Island and Connecticut are also behind last season's report.
