SLOW ORDER PREVAILING

TRAINS RUNNING STILL FAR BEHIND SCHEDULE.

Serious Condition of tracks in The East Responsible for Orders.

All trains headed west are running on slow orders. This is not especially true on the O. R. & N., but from Huntington east the rule is enforced, and on this account the trains are continuing to run far behind their schedule at this place. The melting of heavy snows in the middlewest and consequent softening of the roadbed is responsible for this condition.

No. 5 due here last night reached La Grande at 8 o'clock; the fast mail due at 11 last night came in 12 hours late and No. 7 due this morning arrived shortly after 4 this afternoon.

Della Pringle a Success.

Stewards opera house was filled to overflowing last night and "In the Heart of the Hills" was thoroughly enjoyed by every one. Miss Pringle as Virgie Rand was captivating and most pleasing and played the part in an unassuming manner that immediately caught the large crowd. Mr. C. K. Van Auken is the best comedian seen on the local stage in many a day. His work is clean and free from clownish antics. The play itself is a pretty story of New England life and not at all improbable. There was a conspicuous absence of the clap trap melo-drama that we almost always expect to see with a stock company, and that fact alone should make Miss Pringle and her company great local favorites.

Every member is an artist of ability and they played their respective parts in an earnest and conscientious manner that showed careful training. The costuming and stage settings were a big part of the play last night. The gowns used by Miss Pringle were simply beautiful.

La Grande can safely boast of having a "real stock company" and there isn't any doubt of the financial success of Miss Pringle and her company.

"Flora May's Dutchman" is the play for tonight and a splendid production is promised, with a change of specialties by different members.
