FAST GAME ASSURED

NORTH POWDER AGGREGATION TO PLAY M. I. A.

First Game With Out of Town Team Tomorrow Night.

Promptly at 7:45 tomorrow night at the skating rink, unless wrecks forestall the arrival of the North Powder quintet, the M. I. A. team, which roundly trounced the Imbler team last Saturday night, will line up against a team from North Powder. Arrangements for accommodating a large crowd have been made as the city have not yet seen outside aggregations on the local floor this year.

The M. I. A. is in good trim and will give the North Powderites a fast game. The locals will line up as follows: Center, V. Bean; Forwards, Geddes and Ainsworth; Guards, A. Bean and Metcalf and Fred Ainsworth, utilities. The officials of the game have not as yet been selected for the game and the visitors have not announced their players.

How Osteopathy Aids Womankind
In all of those maladies from which woman suffers under modern conditions of life, Osteopathic treatment is especially useful and may be fully relied upon. In no field have Osteopaths had wider experience than this; and much of the early fame of the science was due to its unparalleled success in the treatment of these cases. The necessity of dangerous operations is obviated in many cases—which is a great deal in itself, aside from the fact that the health of the patient is certain to be better after a natural recovery through osteopathy than it can possibly be after mutilation by the knife of the surgeon.

Neither is there any reason for the belief that many hold that the treatment is especially embarrassing. While local treatment is often needful—in which case it would be foolish of the patient to object and culpable in the Osteopath not to administer it—yet in a very large proportion of cases it is not required; and the spinal treatment that is an essential in practically all of these cases is administered through a garment.

There is every reason for a woman, in her sufferings from maladies peculiar to her special anatomy, to regard Osteopathy as her best friend and strongest ally—Osteopathic Advocate.

PROPOGATE GRAY SQUIRRELS.

McKennon Ranch Will See Interesting Experiments with Squirrels.

Gray squirrels of the middlewest variety are to be propagated in the region of Hilgard, according to a decision of J. D. McKennon who returned from Missouri some time since bringing with him several pairs of gray squirrels such as are well known in that section of the United States and which are unknown to squirrel haunts in Eastern Oregon. The most similar squirrel here is the pine species.

McKennon will populate his Hilgard ranch with these squirrels and in time, if the experiment proves what is planned for it, the gray squirrel will come to have habitation in the Blue Mountains. Anyone who has hunted gray squirrels in the middle west will be anxious to have the local hunting grounds populated with these animals for a more crafty and sly evader of the gun barrel does not climb a tree.
