PRaise FOR THE SHOW

"As the Sun Went Down" is by no means a good name for the fine Western drama that opened a three day's engagement at the Majestic Theatre to a capacity house last night. The name smacks too much of melodrama to convey any real idea of the play, which is about the best of the type ever seen in Peoria.

The story is powerful and appealing with an intensely human atmosphere and it gives the really splendid cast a matchless opportunity for the display of their gifts. It is something to conjure by—that cast. First there is Estha Williams, the little woman who enchanted all Peoria by her acting in the character of "Parepa". That of Colonel Billy is even better fitted to her wary, magnetic personality than was that of Parepa and to say that she makes the most of it is but doing scant justice to the charm with which she invests the character. W. A. Whitecar is another old favorite who received a hearty welcome last night. As the "Tarantula" he did some of the best character acting seen here in a year's age. The success of the production also owes something to A. E. Chatterton, who is inimitable as the preacher and the entire cast is a remarkably strong and well-balanced one. The play is staged in lavish fashion, some of the scenes of the far Western mountains being strikingly beautiful.

The play remains at the Majestic today and tomorrow, the any matinee being given this afternoon.—Peoria Star.

Whack at Heney.

Incidentally, of course, Heney, will take a hand in Oregon politics while in the state. This has been his rule for the past four years. He likes to have a land fraud case preceding each election so that as a Federal employee, he can take a whack at the Republican party of Oregon and aid in the election of Democrats. In this he seems to have heretofore, been more successful in Oregon than in California. Apparently he finds Oregon people easier than the Californians.—Eugene Register.

Albany may get a big new hotel this year.

Hermiston has become a third class postoffice; receipts in 1909, $2440.

The Rogue River Courier says that $4,000,000 will be spent in 1910 in developing the Galice Creek mines on Rogue river.

An irrigation project that will aggregate 45,000 acres and cost $1,000,000 is projected in Crook county in the vicinity of Laidlaw.

J. L. Sterret, manager of Schwartzchild & Schuberger's packing plant pleaded guilty in the municipal court to a charge of selling spoiled prepared ham. He was fined $20.

The Walla Walla Humane Society of Walla Walla, declares rabbit hunts are unnecessarily cruel sports and say that netting will keep animals from injuring trees and gardens.

In preparation for the appearance of the new 250 ton engines which are to be installed on the O. R. & N., 85-pound steel rails are being laid on the "Ys" and Pendleton, Gibbon and Duncan.

J. V. Gibson, who lives ten miles west of Eugene, sold $700 worth of poultry during the year 1909, and Mrs. R. B. Bond, who lives near Irving, has sold $300 worth. It certainly pays to raise poultry.

Oregon ranks seventh among all the states in railroad building during 1909. These figures are compiled by the leading railroad publications of the country and show that the Beaver State added 134 miles to its railroads during the year just closed. The Pacific Northwest is declared to be the great goal of competitive railroad building in the United States.

Pending timber sales from the national forest reserves of Oregon and Washington will mean a revenue to the two commonwealths of more than $300,000. This sum will go to the school and road funds of the two states, the counties benefited being those in which the timber grew. The distribution of this money will mean great improvements to both states.

In 25 years Bandon will be a city of 30,000 figures, the Recorder.

ADAMS AVENUE

THEEYE IMPORTANT!

The eyes is one of the most important and delicate part of the body. "Sight is Priceless". Glasses should not be worn where no error of refraction exists, but where an error does exist they should be put on as soon as possible and worn constantly until the defect is cured. Wearing glasses once does not signify that they will always be worn. You can at any time (before the defect is cured) go back to the poorer vision if you so desire. The vision will not be poorer than it was before the glasses were worn, but will be more noticeable on account of having been accustomed to better vision. I have made a special study of the eyes and have been fitting glasses for fourteen years. Ask anyone that I have fitted for glasses as to my ability, then give me a trial and be convinced. All work guaranteed.
