TIE GAME AT THE RINK

B. M. A. TAKES INTERESTING GAME LAST NIGHT

The play required to end intensely interesting basketball game

A scattering crowd got more than their money's worth at the rink last night when the B. M. A. nosed out a victory in a tie game, the contest going five minutes beyond the stipulated time and ending when Currey threw a field goal making the required two additional points. The Lambda Phi Alpha, entered the first half with a vim and showing surprising development in form, speed and general knowledge of the game, over their last appearance, played the sturdy B. M. A. boys off their feet and principally on free throws gained a strong lead before the half was over. The score was five to nine in the Alpha's favor when the second half opened. By consistent work, and a return to customary teamwork and speed the B. M. A. players slowly overtook the lead and when the game ended the score stood 13 all. In the playoff the B. M. A. won.

From all standpoints the game was as intensely interesting as any that has been played this year. At times the B. M. A. showed flashes of team work that has not been equalled by any local team this year, but goal shooting was not up to the usual standard. There were no particular stars, every player working in a satisfactory manner. Childers officiated creditably as referee.

The lineups were:

Lambda Phi Alpha—Noyes and Pickler, center; Reynolds and Kelly, guard; Oliver and Ralston, forwards.

B. M. A.—Bohnenkamp, center; Grady and Currey, forwards; Peare, Bolton and Lottes (Capt.) guards; Crawley, utility.

PHYSICAL CULTURE FOR FEBRUARY

The February issue of Physical Culture, in addition to a number of interesting contributions, contains not a few notable articles from the pen of its editor, Bernard Macfadden. Among the latter a series of articles for "Straightening Round Shoulders" with supplement in colors, is particularly worthy of mention.

Accompanying especially timely contributions on arctic life and on the manners and customs of the natives who are serving as porters and attendants for Bwano Tumbo in Africa, there appears in this number articles on "Moral Life in Our Colleges," "Beauty Culture for the Hair," "The Dust Nuisance," "The Problem of Heat and Ventilation," "Home Made Gymnastic Apparatus," and other subjects akin to outdoor life and health building.

In addition to a remarkable serial (now being published) by Upton Sinclair, who is a member of the editorial staff of Physical Culture, its publishers make the announcement that a sensational sequel to his much discussed book "The Jungle" will appear in a forthcoming number of the magazine.
