WATER CONTRACTS HELD TO BE LEGALLYWATER PROOF

Portland bond and contract attorneys agree that there is no material fault with the wording of the irrigation contract now being discussed and which will be printed for signers as soon as there is no possible question but what the contract binding the water users to the irrigation corporation and vice versa, is legally water proof. Some time ago it was O. K'd by the wateruser's committee but before going to the cost of printing, the directors decided to ascertain beyond a question of reasonable doubt that the contracts were legally satisfactory. This has been found to be a fact. Portland attorneys have studied them carefully and recommend a few minor changes in the phraseology but nothing to change the weight of the sentences of the idea conveyed.

The directors of the irrigation company held a meeting yesterday afternoon at which time these matters were considered. Within a short time it is thought certain that the contracts will be printed and then solicitation for water rights will be commenced.

BUY SACKS SATURDAY

COUNTY FARMERS UNION WILL MEET TO TALK SACKS

Unusually early date set for choosing line of action.

Next Saturday there wil be a county union farmers meting held in this city at which there is expected to be a large attendance. The question of buying sacks is to be an important feature, as the market suggests that those who order early this year will secure the lowest prices.

This is a new status of affaids for seldom if ever have the farmers considered buying their sacks at this early date. However, in Washington, many contracts have already been let and even in this county one district has considered the matter, when North Powder last Saturday held a sack buying meeting.
