Resolution of condolence, 5c a line.

Mayor Armbruster, of North Yakima, his chief of police and six councilmen are made defendants in two actions for damages brought as the result of posting lists of habitual drunkards in the saloons and forbidding saloon keepers to sell liquor to men whose names appeared on these lists. The plaintiffs are W. R. Benham, butcher, and Frank Hall, both asking $50,000. Councilmen who are made defendants are Mull, Culver, Schorn, Pease, Wenner and Shaw. The complainants say lists were posted without due authority and that said lists led the public to believe that the plaintiffs were habitual drunkards. These lists were first posted in the saloons on Feb. 1st, but were removed the same day on the advice of the city attorney.

Modern commercial activity is emphasized by the progressive spirit of the Medford commercial club. It has a membership at present of 562 and when one realizes that there is an initiation fee of $5 in addition to the monthly dues, one gets a better appreciation of the reason why people hear so frequently of the Rogue River city.

The Commercial Club of Walla Walla is determined that no one shall be missed by the census man when he comes to Walla Walla and have issued warning to all the inhabitants to be in their houses when he comes. If this cannot be they are urged to send a complete explanation to the club.

It is showing the proper respect now for a gentleman to take off his hat to a load of hay and he should fall on his knees to a cord of wood.

Jeffries says it will be a fight between the white race and the nigger. It might be the "yeller" against the black.

Make a good guess on the census of the county and then you can say "I told you so."

It is a long winter that has no thaw.
