Train Run on Time.

For the first time in several weeks, Number Seven and Six met in La Grande as the schedule provides, indicating that the temporary thaw and intermittent showers, have little or not at all affected the mainline. The Joseph train was started out on time today as well, giving something like regular service again on the branch line and well as the main line.

GREAT ADD ABOUT THE NEXT BIG FAIR

DIRECTORS SIT UP UNTIL MID-NIGHT PLANNING

Unheard of interest centers in county fair for next year

Did you ever hear anything like it before? At this time of the year with the snow on the ground, winter, a board of directors sitting up and planning on a fair to be held the following October? That was what happened last night. Committees on advertising, concessions, premiums, and entertainment were appointed. The committee on premiums is expected to meet immediately and with the aid of the board of directors of the District Agricultural Society revise last year's list and send it to the state printer that it may be in the hands of the people some months in advance of the fair.

The date has not been definitely decided upon but experience has proven that our fruit cannot be exhibited to advantage until in October and the first week or thereabouts is usually the date selected and this year will probably be no exception.

ACQUIT I. STEWART

DECISION POPULAR IN ELGIN IS THE REPORT

Charges of assault against Wisdam not sufficient

Elgin, Feb. 25.—(Special)—Evidently much as the general public feels in just and equitable, Ira Stewart, the Elgin resident who was accused by Fred Wisdam of shooting the later in the leg a few days ago, in an assault alleged to have taken place at a point six miles from Elgin was acquitted last night at the Justice of the peace hearing. Wisdam accused Stewart of assaulting him and caused his arrest by coming to Elgin and informing the authorities.

So popular was the acquittal with Elgin people that a petition was libelously signed here today raising the money for Stewart to defray expense of the trial.

THEATRICALS

Brief Reviews of What is on Books of Local Theatres

Rosevelt Liked It.

It is said that ex-President Roosevelt was vociferous in his praise of the performance of "The House of the Thousand Candles" when that play was produced at the National Theatre in Washington, D. C. The ex-President and his party occupied the right hand stage box which was decorated in his honor. In speaking of the play the Washington Post says: "It is a highly thrilling play and was greeted with round after round of applause."

The original production as seen at the Hackett Theatre in New York and the Garrick Theatre in Chicago will be seen at the Steward on Saturday night.

Best Film Yet.

"The Rose of the Philippines" is the title of a remarkable film to be shown at the Scenic tonight and tomorrow. Manager Gardiner says it is by far the best film ever seen at the Scenic, without question of dispute. Without further eulogy of it the manager invites the public to witness it. "Never again" is a prohibition film that is both funny and interesting. Prof. Horn and his educated dogs are still here and continue to entertain audiences with trained dog feats.

Another Cowboy Story

"The heart of a Cowboy"—A dash of cowboy story with the heart of the Essany people developed and brought into effective play. The knave wins the heart of the girl, but she discovers the man's character in time to save the man who has made a noble sacrifice for her sake from being hanged and the two thieves get what they deserve. There is much of the true Western snap that goes with this film, which is worked out with attention to detail which makes it seem realistic in most of the scenes. There is along with this, some comedy sketches that are among the side splitting reels which the Patrons of the Star have already enjoyed.

THE QUALITY STORE

Fottee

Mrs. L. Smith the milliner has returned from Portland with a swell line of Spring Tailored Hats which she will have on exhibition at her store tomorrow.
