J. D. McKENNON, SON, AND WARREN CHANDLER, PERSONEL

Walter Pierce takes over cattle owned by teh McKennons

From cattl owner to sheep owner is a step taken by J. D. McKennon and others, which will give the sheep raising business an impetus in Union county. Mr. McKennon has formed a partnership with Warren Chandler and "Jerry" McKennon and the firm will be known as McKennon, Son & Chandler. The cattle owned by McKennon & Son, numbering 250 head, have been sold to Walter M. Pierce.

To begin with the new firm will purchase 2500 head of sheep and a greater portion of them will run on the McKennon ranch up Five Points creek.

Up to date, sheep raising has not been on an extensive basis in this county, but within a few years this firm alone will have a band of sheep to compare favorably in size with any now running in their sister counties, where sheep raising is carried on an extensive scale.

SECRETARY CHURCH CONSULTS WITH HAMILTON

After Rose Carnival, aviators may be had at reasonable figure.

Secretary Wm. Church of the Commercial Club arrived home today from Portland where he was an interested spectator during the recent aviation and while there held consultation "Birdman" Hamilton who did the wonderful feats with the bi-plane during the Portland meet.

That there is a possibility of winged men and a machine coming to La Grande during the county fair next fall is now becoming apparent. Mr. Church took up the matter with Hamilton, but the price necessary to bring Hamilton here would be enormous. However, there is a way out of that which may eliminate the exorbitant cost for next spring there will be many machines and aviators at the Portland Rose Show and at that time negotiations with them may result in closing a contract that will be within the financial attainments of the local Club. That a flying machine would be novel and unique attraction for the fair goes without saying, and if the cost can be fixed at a reasonable figure, it is likely that the fair will have an aviation meet in connection with the regular attractions.
