TRACT IS ADDED TO

ENLARGED HOMESTEAD LAND ACT TO BE MADE USE OF.

About forty-three thousand acres opened to entry here.

Township 4 South, range 27 east, and parts of township 5 south, range 27 east, Morrow county, aggregating about 43,000 acres, have been designated as dry homestead land and will be subject to entry under that Act of Feb. 9, 1909, which, under certain conditions, provides for 320 acres in every homestead.

The local land office received the following instructions today: The term "nonirrigable land," as used in this act, is construed to mean land which, as a rule, lacks sufficient rainfall to produce agricultural crops without the necessity of resorting to unusual methods of cultivation, such as the system commonly known as "dry farming," and for which there is no known source of water supply from which land may be successfully irrigated at a reasonable cost. Therefore, lands containing mer-chantable timber, mineral lands, and lands within a reclamation project, or lands which may be irrigated at a reasonable cost from any known source of water supply, may not be entered under this act. Minor portions of a legal subdivision, susceptible of irrigation from natural sources, as, for instance, a spring, will not exclude such subdivision from entry under this act, provided, however, that no one entry shall embrace in total aggregate more than 40 acres of such irrigable land.

Peter, at the trial of Christ, as he warmed at the enemies' fire, quaked before a maid and denied his Lord. But at Pentecost he was brave as a lion. The Holy Spirit had filled him.

The Holy Ghost empowers but that power may be lost. He may be resisted, quenched, grieved. Oh, Christians, ring up heaven; come into your privilege. When He comes, differences are forgotten and under the blood stained banner of the cross, Christians are one.

The sermon abounded in felicitous illustrations and charming stories. At its close a multitude of anxious people responded to the invitation to come forward and pray for the uplifting and empowering of the Holy Spirit.

The men's meeting was absolutely unique. The inimitable Johnson is a man among men. He was in the superlative degree among the men. His message was manly, fearless and incisive. We shall not attempt to reproduce it. No man who heard it can ever forget it. It will live in memory as a warning to men issuing from the throne of God. The dramatic feature of the speaker shedding his coat, rolling up his sleeves and entering upon a man's task for men, shows the intensity of soul on fire for God and men. A vast number of men rushed to the rostrum and gave the glad hand of kindly appreciation and good fellowship at the close of the sermon. A meeting of like character will be held each Sunday afternoon during the campaign.

The Sunday Night's Service was a fitting climax to a day of blessing to our city. Mr. Johnson spoke with a prophet's fire and zeal to 1100 or 1200 people on "Laboring together with God." It was the strongest message of the day, inspiring and thrilling a great audience. A silence often prevailed that was almost painful and deep solemnity rested upon every heart.

The musical director is a great favorite. He seems the very embodiment and personification of his chosen life's mission. It would seem the dead would awake at the call of Prof. Gray and his noble choir of the best talent of La Grande.

Bootlegging was the subject of evidence and argument before the circuit court again today when the case of State vs. Jones of Union was resumed. One witness had been examined when court opened this morning and it is apparent that the case will go to the jury this evening or tonight.

The next case is that of Mrs. Graybeal vs. the O. R. & N. Co., a suit for damages. Mrs. Graybeal is seeking damage for money for the fact that she alleges the O. R. & N. let her off the train at the wrong station some two years ago and she was forced to walk to Meacham, the nearest station.
