The Steward's "Next"

Messrs. Stair and Nicoli will present for the first time in this city, the sixth edition of their popular racing play "His Last Dollar," at the Steward May 3, with David Higgins.

in that it deals with the experience of a rich Kentuckian who seeks to become richer by means of stock speculation, and is interesting that it tells a stirring love story, and it brings into the play the interest that usually accompanies the winning of a great horse race.

There is one thing especially good about the presentation. All of the well known characters found in the blue grass region of Kentucky, the scene of the story, are portrayed in a natural manner, but in a way that does not give offense. There is nothing questionable about the play, and the lines are bright and clever. Mr. Higgins has a number of very effective situations and his droll humor creates many laughs. Altogether the presentation is far above the ordinary, and the play is soon to have a big run.
