

About The City

Pats in Electric Power

Selders store is today adding the finishing touches to its motor driven ice cream freezers and during the summer months customers of that popular place will know their ice cream is being frozen while an electric motor turns the machine. Mr. Selder did all the planning of the new plant himself.

New Office Fixtures

The Savoy hotel is having new fixtures made for its office and smoking rooms. New furniture will also be added. Besides this it is intended to cut a window in the north wall of the building at the head of the stairway, giving more light on the lobby. When completed Mine Host Brischoux will have things very convenient and comfortable.

Thompson Will Raise Fruit

Jay Thompson has resigned his position with the O. R. & N. company after a long period of trusty service. He has purchased a tract of land near Vancouver Washington, and will make that his home. His family expects to join him soon. La Grande regrets losing Mr. Thompson and family for they are among the splendid citizens here. He has a wide acquaintance not only in railroad circles but throughout the entire Eastern Oregon country. However, the Observer and all the remainder of friends here wish them prosperity in their new home.

Attended Social Function.

Frank Conners, Forest Ivanhoe, Ernest Gust, Misses Irene Murphy, Marjorie McCall and Jessie Baebler, Mr. and Mrs. Garria, H. Varnum and W. G. Francis, composed a party of La Grande young people who visited at Hot Lake last evening and attended the House Warming. They report a most delightful evening which was taken up with games, dancing and refreshments. The Hot Lake hospitality is legend and La Grande also count on having a splendid time when they visit that institution on a pleasure seeking trip.

Will Receive Later

Owing to the illness of Dr. Mendelson the date for receiving friends at his home, which was to have been this evening, has been postponed.

Make Trip to Cove Today

G. L. Cleaver, one of La Grande's ardent believers in the Grande Ronde fruit lands, and L. R. Drewilner, of Seattle who is financially interested in the valley, drove over to Cove today to inspect some of their holdings.

Training Mormon Choir

Prof. Edwards, one of the high class musicians of the northwest, is in La Grande for a few days from his home in Baker City, training a number of voices for the Mormon choir. The professor will make regular visits to La Grande for this purpose, and it is possible he may locate here. The splendid vegetation of the Grande Ronde valley appeals to him and he would like to make this city his home.

Firemen Elect Officers

Hose Company No. 1 of the Volunteer Firemen held its annual election last night and the following officers were chosen for the coming year: C. L. Mackey, president; James G. Snodgrass, vice president; Cam Caylor, secretary; Harvey Bay, treasurer; Frank Bay, foreman; Lott Snodgrass, first lieutenant; Charles Murchison, second assistant; Hugh McCall, historian. Chief Jones appointed Clarence Jackson of company No. 1 as first assistant chief and Ed Brady of No. 4 as second assistant chief.

HENRY GOECK IS DEAD.

Man of Twenty Years Residence Here
Passes Away

Last night death claimed Henry Goeck, one of Union county's well known citizens. He was born in Baden, Germany, and twenty years ago located in La Grande where he has since resided. His wife passed away about eight years ago. Six children survive him. They are Mrs. Donnelly and Ida and Emma Goeck of La Grande, Mrs. Frank O'Hara of Pendleton, Frank and Herman Goeck of Walla Walla. The deceased was 64 years of age. Funeral announcements will be made later.

THREE GENERATIONS

St. Elmo a Play That Has Lasted
Long and Faithfully

Three generations of theatregoers are interested in St. Elmo: Grandparents, parents and children. It is customary to hear the old people say, "I have read St. Elmo off and on for 50 years but never hoped to see it on the stage—children you must all go."

Men of business will phone for four or six seats, with a side remark to their partners that "it has a splendid moral tone and the boys should see it."

The youths and the maidens are 'wise' to the fact that it has a most appealing love story, and they like to witness it in one another's company.

The small boy in the gallery 'falls' for it strong, for he can understand its simplicity and force.

One of them remarked to a brother gallerite after the San Francisco opening, "It's a eral one, cul. St. Elmo is all to the good and the leadin' lady is a pippin. There's a dooin' in the foist act, because one guy swifes anothers skirt, and just before he was shot he said, 'Gee, I'm goin' to die.' Then he leaped up against a tree and made good."

SOCIETY

The contest between the two sections of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church came to an end yesterday afternoon. Section No. 2, whose leader in the contest was Mrs. C. H. Upton, came out victorious, having raised $140.78 to the first division's $76.05. Under the rules of the contest, the vanquished division will tender a banquet to the victors.

The C. E. of the Christian church will hold a cake sale at Russell's meat market next Saturday.

The Lyle Tuesday Musicale will hold an open session on May 10th. An excellent program is being prepared by Mesdames E. Polack, Fred Currey and E. D. Selder. A cordial invitation is extended to all members, friends and the public generally. Admission 15 cents.
