In the World Of Sport

THE only game in the world just now may be baseball, but you cannot make the followers of tennis think so. Even with the big league contests on the racket sharps are devoting their time and attention to tennis, the season promising to be the liveliest in the history of the sport. For the first time in the history of this game the all comers' national championship tournament on the casino courts at Newport, R. I., will begin on Monday instead of on Tuesday, the designated date being Aug. 15.

This meeting is to be the climax of the lawn tennis year, as is made evident by placing the clay court championship tournament of the United States, over which so much controversy was waged, on Aug. 1 on the courts of the Omaha Field club.

This year we are to have no fewer than 119 tennis tournaments, more than in any previous season. Of the most important the first will begin in Boston on May 21, the New England intercollegiate championship. Then come the middle Atlantic states championship in Washington on May 23, the Manhattan doubles, open and singles, in New York city on May 23, the Massachusetts state championship, doubles in West Newton, Mass., on May 28 to 30, and the women's championship of Pennsylvania and the eastern states in Philadelphia on May 30. From that date on other big contests will follow.

The sport known as sand yachting is new to this country, although in England these boats have been seen speeding along the beaches for several years. This pastime now promises to become popular in America, a young New York millionaire having built one and arranged a contest with a Chicago man who is also having one constructed. The affair should prove a novel and exciting one.

The sand yacht, with a good strong wind, is capable of attaining great speed, one in England recently running forty miles an hour.

New Version.

Yankee Doodle went to town To get a glass of beer. He stuck a feather in his hat And called it chancier.

A Failure.

"This new play won't do at all." "Why not?" "None of the characters does anything that he ought to be ashamed of."

—Detroit Free Press.

Similar.

The "fourth dimension," too, is on the never proven list. The two are quite comparable, it now appears to me. To cheaper cuts we hear about, but never, never see.

Checking Self Esteem.

I do not care to pompous seem. For that is a mistake.

"Made Up."

"My mind is made up," quoth the haughty society dame decidedly.

"Just like the rest of you," replied the ungentlemanly man.—University of Minnesota Minnehaha.

Too Lonely.

"There is always a seat waiting for me at her house."

"Sure."

"I wouldn't give much for your stand in."

Red Tape.

"What is the health department for?"

"To stamp out disease."

"What with?"

"A rubber stamp, I guess."
