TO STUDY COMET'S EFFECT.

Government Asks Wireless Operators and Mariners to Help.

Preparations are being made by the United States hydrographic office and all its branches for a series of observations by mariners of phenomena attendant upon the visitation of Halley's comet. A special bulletin has been issued calling on correspondents of the office, wherever they may be, to make careful notes of unusual meteorological conditions. The bulletin says:

It is requested that all shipmasters who view the comet will inform the United States hydrographic office of the brightness of the object as compared with bright stars in the heavens, the angular length of the tail, comparing the length with the angular distance between bright stars near it; its form and color. To make these observations it is suggested that shipmasters use their binoculars, spy-glasses or the low power eyepiece of their sextants.

Mariners also are especially requested to make careful observations for variations of the needle, which, it is suggested, may be affected by the comet. A close watch, the bulletin says, should also be kept for unusual deflections, noting their exact time, amount, whether periodical, etc.

It is the wireless telegraph, however, which the hydrographic office believes may be most affected by the approach and recession of the comet through electro magnetic waves being set up by electrical discharges or meteoric particles, in which case, it is said, disturbances would be observed in the receiving apparatus of wireless installations.

"The maximum effect," says the bulletin, "will be observed between the 16th and 20th of May, particularly on May 18. It is requested that wireless operators pay particular attention to static effects during this period and to note anything unusual. The operator hearing unusual noises in the telephone should note the time and see whether there were any meteorites observed at that time; also note the ship's head and direction of the antennae at the same time. The occurrence of meteorites should be logged by the watch officer, with details of time, size, direction and duration."

Scattered about the United States are many amateur wireless plants, besides those of regularly organized companies doing a commercial business. It is requested that all such operators work in conjunction with the hydrographic office, keeping such records as have been suggested to operators on ships.

Football bleachers will be used as a fire escape at the northern Baptist convention to be held at the University of Chicago from May 6 to 13. The meetings are to be in the Bartlett gymnasium, which has been condemned as a convention hall by the city building department. Two sections of the bleachers have been moved back almost to the gymnasium, and a platform will bridge the gap between. Ten windows fifty feet above the earth will be converted into doors leading to the platform. Three thousand delegates will attend the convention.
