

WISE TALKS
By The

OFFICE BOY

Little Johnnie owned a couple of bantam hens that laid very small eggs—this fact being displeasing to his boyship. Going to the fowl-run one morning Johnnie's father was surprised to find a goose egg tied to one of the beams and above it a card with the words, "Keep your eye on this and do your best."

The success of this store is due to the fact that we do our best and never sacrifice quality for profit. The Old Man says: "Be kind, be truthful, be honest and industrious." The trouble with most of us is that we don't use the common sense we were endowed with. We forget that a duty well done makes the next duty easier to do. Don't borrow trouble or small sums of money. Be a cheerful loser. Cheerful losers are always winners. Cheerful people attract confidence, love and success. They succeed in their undertakings because they just can't help it. The People's Store salesmen are cheerful salesmen because they are well paid, well fed, well dressed and kindly treated. Every man is a booster for the man in the other department. The team-work is beautiful. No jealousies and no unkind thoughts or words. Have you been in to try on the new HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX SUITS?

LADD CANYON NEWS

Mrs. Claude Braden was here from Perry visiting relatives last Saturday and Sunday.

Quite a number from here attended the funeral of Mrs. D. W. Johnson last Saturday. Mrs. Johnson lived in and near Ladd Canyon for a number of years and was well liked by all who knew her.

A carry-all of young fellows, most of them being employes of J. A. Russell of La Grande, and who are known among baseball fans as "The Butchers" played ball here Sunday, but owing to the fact that they practiced too hard (?) before the game was pulled off they let the Ladd Canyoners over score them considerably.

Wendell Ihli, Sr., has sold his farm here to a man by the name of Fuller. Mr. Ihli and family will probably reside on another farm near by for the summer.

Band Dance Enjoyed.

More genuine pleasures attended the band dance last evening that marked the first party by that organization and today the dancing public is asking for another in the near future, and no doubt the band will see to it that the requests are granted.

Medicines that aid nature are always successful. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It loosens the cough, relaxes the lungs, opens the secretions and stills the irritation, thus restoring a healthy condition.

LAST WEEK OF

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES COMMENCE NEXT SUNDAY.

Baccalaureate Address to Be Spoken Next Sunday Evening.

Today is virtually the last day of school in the 1909-10 season. Examinations commence Monday and from then on the city will center its social and entertainment features on graduation week.

The week's activities commence next Sunday night with the baccalaureate address at the Central church of Christ, Rev. Ford Ellis delivering the address. This event will usher in the week of commencement. The last function in this connection will be graduation Friday night at the L. D. S. tabernacle when Attorney C. E. Cochran will deliver the graduation address and brief graduation exercises will be delivered and diplomas awarded.

Twenty six will carry off sheepskins this spring. The class has been an active one in all school departments from studies to academic to athletic features, and the school loses heavily by the graduation this year.

Made Good Auto Trip.

Pete Beaver, the O. R. & N. passenger engineer, returned to Baker last evening in his auto after making a trip to Mormon Basin. Pete has had a great deal of experience in running a locomotive on steel rails and some experience with the auto. However, yesterday he was reminded that he was not on steel rails for when he was passing over the country in his auto where there was no road, one wheel of the machine struck a stump and sprung the axle. While it did not put the machine out of commission, it disfigured its looks. — Baker City Herald.

Ackerman Here Today.

State Superintendent Ackerman who last night delivered the graduation address at Elgin, is in the city this afternoon on his way to Union tonight where he will again address a class of graduates. He returns here tomorrow morning to remain through the day.

Tree Named For Gifford Pinchot. Secretary Ballinger recently granted permission to the Sierra club of San Francisco to give the name of Gifford Pinchot to a giant tree in the Muir Woods National park, in California. Many applications have been made to the department to name trees after living men. All have been refused except in this one instance and one other, when a tree in the Yosemite valley was named Theodore Roosevelt.

Sam Leever and "Deacon" Phillippe have won 839 out of 822 games for the Pittsburgs during their careers with that club. During the time they have been with Fred Clarke their work has been faithfully performed. Only recently they demonstrated their loyalty to Captain Fred. At St. Louis the Pirates were forced to play the Cardinals while rain and snow fell in inclement combinations.

Clarke didn't want to take a chance on ruining either Adams or Camnitz for life, so he asked for volunteers to pitch the game. Leever and Phillippe were the ones to answer the call. Leever was chosen, and he went in and won.

"The Common Enemy."

A war picture representing graphically, and in a natural way, the fear which the guerrillas of the civil war excited. There is the dispatch of a messenger, the daughter of the house, and her wounding to add a heart interest while the timely arrival of the soldiers and the wiping out of the band of marauders supplies a fitting climax to the picture. It is worked out with the care which characterizes the work of the Selig players and represents scenes which were too common for comfort and safety during those trying times. This picture is now running at the Isis.
