

WISE TALKS
By The
OFFICE BOY
The "Soul Kiss"

Gee, that's a fierce one—the "soul kiss"; isn't it? I think that's the limit. The seecress who has invented this new mode of osculation (pipe the words) has a most romantic name, something like "Vera", and lives on Fifth Avenue, N. Y. where most of the good dressers take their morning air, when they're not doing Broadway or the Bowery, and she is a cosmologist (you can search me for that) and has a perfect mob of society folks chasing her up to learn the ways of the mysterious "soul kiss". Why, you don't even have to live on this nutty sphere to get your soul kiss, for it can be sent through space at the rate of a billion miles an hour without any one knowing you're getting yours. I don't see why she didn't call it the "wireless", but maybe she didn't want to take any chances of going to law with Mr. Marconi. Well, say, what is this world coming to—are we going to get too lazy to do our own kissing? Not for Willie, anyhow. Come in and see the new neckwear.

Rush to New Gold Fields.

Dawson, May 26.—The steamer St. Michael, the first boat of the year for Fairbanks and New Diggings at Iditarode, is going down the river today. This marks the opening of the stampede from Yukon to the new gold fields, which promises to outdo the Fairbanks rush.

Mr. Loftus went to Ireland about 16 months ago, having decided to take a well earned vacation. He is one of the prosperous farmers of Starkey, and now that he has breathed the pure and invigorating air of Ireland and trod the "old sod" no more, he will return to his Starkey home to resume management of his extensive holdings up the river and in this city.

BLAZING TRAIL IN PARK

ARCHITECT CHASE HERE TODAY
CONFERRING WITH BOOSTERS

Driveways will be Laid out This Week
Chautauqua Meeting Tonight.

With the arrival of F. E. Chase, a landscape gardner from Portland today, a committee having charge of the Chautauqua grounds escorted him to the park and a general survey was made.

Mr. Chase will lay out driveways and plot the ground in a way that will not only be convenient but picturesque as well. He was pleased with the natural appearance of surroundings and there is no question but what La Grande's park, when arrangements have been completed, will be the beauty spot of Eastern Oregon.

This evening a meeting of the Chautauqua committee will be held and many matters of importance will be discussed, some of which will be acted upon. All admit the time is passing and it is necessary that marked activity prevail from now on until the splendid event shall have taken place.

A water color drawing of the proposed park is now on exhibit at the W. H. Bohnenkamp store, and a clear idea of what the park will be can be gained in this way. Blazing of trails and drives will be hurried under the direction of Mr. Chase.

COL. IVANHOE HOME

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY VISITED IN OLD VIRGINIA.

Guest of His Father Whom He Has Not Seen in 34 Years.

Laden down with mementos, keepsakes from the state of his birth, tired from a long and strenuous journey, but in a happy frame of mind, District Attorney F. S. Ivanhoe returned last evening from Richmond, Va., and other cities in the east. While away he visited relatives in and around the city of Richmond and at Washington and was a guest with his aged father, whom he has not seen for 34 years and with other close relatives whom he has not seen in 39 years. The homestead where he as a boy used to gather chestnuts was his headquarters. Among the large variety of souvenirs which he brought with him, were hickory withes such as were used to maintain discipline in schools, a fac simile of the Jefferson Davis bond, signed by many notables now known in history, a hickory cane cut from a bush on the homestead, and a score of other articles, all of which will make an interesting collection for the Colonel's office.

The general order of farm land in Virginia is deteriorating in value says Mr. Ivanhoe, and land that at one time was very fertile is not so valuable now. Coal fields and oil wells add to the wealth of the state immensely. While at the national capital, Mr. Ivanhoe called on the Oregon delegation and visited the points of general interest. He hurried home to prepare for the June term of court and though enjoying every minute of the trip, was tired in body and is recuperating prior to the strenuous court weeks before him.

Cummins Amendment Dead.

Washington, May 26.—The Cummins amendment to the railroad regulation bill was defeated in the senate today by a vote of 24 to 33. The amendment provided that increased railroad rates will not take effect until they were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

THE WAY OUT of a SOCIAL DILEMMA

Getting a fourth hand for "bridge" is only one of a thousand social uses of the Telephone, and telephone service promotes sociability and good fellowship because it brings neighbors closer together. Your friends all live within talking distance.

It is the same with your out-of-town friends—the universal service of the Pell System makes them your neighbors, too. Your voice can reach all by means of the Bell Long Distance Service.
