ENTERPRISE HERE TOMORROW

Contest Will Show Relative Strength of Two Counties in League.

With Enterprise coming tomorrow, local baseball will sit up and take notice for the coming aggregation is admittedly a tough proposition to defeat, and though the local squad has shown marked improvement since two weeks ago, there is considerable doubt as to the outcome of this contest.

McInnis the new twirler will be on the mound for La Grande and pitted against him will be the famous Bill-you with his terrific speed and good control. McInnis made good last Sunday and fans are expecting considerable of him tomorrow. The game starts at 3 o'clock sharp.

GIRLS TALK HUNT CLUB.

Probable That Organization of Equestrians Will Be Perfected Here.

Young ladies and women who are warm equestrians fans are discussing the proposition of organization of a hunt club here, and if the girls take the lead in the matter it is likely that men will form a similar club. At present, however, girls and ladies form a big majority of those who derive benefit and pleasure alike from riding. A club of about two dozen could be formed here any time and once started under organized plans, the sport would doubtlessly become extremely popular.

BAKER A MYSTERY.

Carter and Miller Leading in Eastern Oregon Hitting so Far.

Carter and Miller, both of Cove in the Eastern Oregon league, are leading the batters of that league, with several others close on their heels. With four games played, the fans have gotten a good line-up on their material in the four-club organization and some good reliable dope is being issued on what will be the outcome. Huntington and Cove are both playing a class of ball that will make the other two hump to catch up but something is going to happen soon with the two tail-end teams.

One of the standing mysteries among the bugs and fans in the district interested, is why Baker City fails to win games, though four have been played. A fellow by the name of Daly is doing the stellar mound act and it is generally agreed that he is a clever man. The entire team is generally considered to be strong and well balanced, but as yet has not won a game. If the fellows don't lose heart, they will yet cut considerable figure in the race.

With Spoonmore and Mayers officiating as the battery for Huntington, the gateway town is well hooked up, for both are known all over the Eastern half of the state as clever men. So far of course Huntington and Cove have shown the most class in battery arrangement; and Union seems the weakest in the bunch. A fellow by the name of Cline is putting 'em over to the old standby Mulverhill, but he was recruited from the second team and lacks experience.

MYERS HEADS SPRINTERS.

Former Football Captain is Now at the Head of Track Team.

Yesterday evening Arlo Myers, doughty relay runner, football player and some weight man, was elected to step into the shoes of Willie Peare as captain of the 1911 track team. Myers divided his time between track and baseball this year, and doubtlessly will give his whole time to the sprinting business next year. His feats in the relay and his all-around ability, make him well qualified for the position.

Under the regime of Heldenrich and Peare, the team this year won signal success on the track and pulled out financially in good shape. Though nothing was to spare, the heavy expense of conducting the meet, and attending the two out-of-town track meets, were met—thanks to the kindly assistance of the businessmen who bought medals. This item removed $150 from the expenses of the Eastern Oregon meet, and with this lift, the track season was finished with a clean cash record, something that football or track has not done of late.

SPORTING BRIEFS.

"Herm" Selgrist caught for McInnis in a long string of games a few years ago and pays a pretty compliment to the twirler. "I caught seven games straight without moving out of my tracks."

The time was never riper than now to bring the matter of a high school athletic field up to the board. The vacant block where the meet was held last Saturday can be bought reasonably. Get busy, someone, and see what can be done.

Though La Grande has more auto owners than any city of its size for miles around, there seems to be little organization. Why not have them all in an association that would bring the reputation of local car adherents before the public.

There is growing timber for future track teams in the city. Two teams all under 12 years of age, held a track meet this afternoon. The teams are known as the North Side Neighborhood club and the Daly Cadet club. Good time was made.

As soon as President R. L. Lincoln gets home and gets his bearings, he will appoint permanent umpires for the Inter-county league. As yet the "umps" are merely temporary affairs.

"The best athletic grounds in Eastern Oregon" would be an enviable title to stick on to the city's growing list of attractions.
