

About The City

"Where Is the Exhibit Hall?"

If anyone believes that the exhibit hall has not been a good advertisement for the Grande Ronde valley listen to this: Today L. B. Reed, one of the prominent lawyers of Kansas City, Mo., was passing through La Grande on his way to Grant's Pass. Being acquainted with the Observer people he shook hands and the first thing he said was, "Where is that exhibit hall I saw when I came through here the last time." When the new location was pointed out to him he said undoubtedly that was a good advertisement for this valley and caused a great deal of interest to be taken by people passing through. Do They Know How?

Valley Looks Good to Him.

W. W. Blaker, of Kansas City, arrived in La Grande today to visit relatives for a short time and when asked what portion of the country looked the best to him between La Grande and Kansas City he promptly replied: "I don't know the name of this valley but it is positively the most beautiful thing I have seen since I left the metropolis of the middle west. Why don't you advertise this part of Oregon? In middle west cities we hear of Rogue River valley, Hood River, Yakima and Bitter Root valley but I never yet have seen a word about this part of Oregon."

Building Bungalow Church.

Rev. W. H. Gibson returned to this city from Enterprise yesterday afternoon where he has spent a month with the Baptist church there. The church in Enterprise will build a new $6,000 edifice this summer. The architecture will be of the Bungalow type and when the structure is completed will give the congregation one of the most unique church structures in Eastern Oregon. Mr. Gibson remains with his family a few days when he will return to the work in the Walla Walla metropolis.

Team Returns.
The Enterprise team returned to Enterprise today having spent two days here while playing the La Grande team. The aggregation has won the distinction of being a really clever nine, with every member in it an Enterprise man. Not only the honor of individual success but the name of Enterprise is always uppermost in the minds of the players.

Jackson Baby Dead.

Sudden death coming after an illness of three days, this morning brought grief to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jackson. The child was not thought to be critically ill at any time. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning. Deceased was one year and four months old.

Guests With the Chief.

Chief of Police Walden has rounded up the following to do work on the streets: Jas. Collis, fifteen days; J. R. Murray, ten days; C. O. Stevens will appear tomorrow for being drunk and disorderly and be given sentence at that time.

Three Will Graduate.

In the graduating class of the University of Oregon this year are three La Grande people. They are Joel H. Richardson, James K. Nell and Pearl Huff. This is the largest representation that La Grande has had in one class at the university.

Will Take Union Auto Tour.

A big crowd of Knights of Pythias are planning on going to Union next Thursday evening by automobile to attend the Union lodge banquet that evening. The party will stay over until Friday and attend the horse show.

Fine Furniture Arrives.

About $1,000 in furniture arrived today for use by the local Masonic lodge. This will give the lodge room as fine equipment as any thing in this half of the state.

Motion Day This Afternoon.

Motion day for the June term of the circuit court, was held this afternoon the work commencing at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

ATTEND TONIGHT'S MEETING.

Citizens and Business Men Will Discuss the Excursion.

This evening, at 7:30 in the Commercial club rooms, there will be a meeting of citizens and businessmen to make final arrangement for the special excursion to Union on Friday to attend the Stock show. Everything points to one of the largest crowds that ever left La Grande. Union is preparing to receive a bunch of Grande Ronde valley people who are carrying the banner of push and get-up-and-get and Union will do the honors in a graceful manner.

A special rate of one dollar for the round trip has been made to the city of Union and only small details are to be worked out this evening.

THE FAIR

For Wednesday

HOME RUN WINS.

worked herself to third base only to be cut off and the same thing was true of Enterprise until the eighth. Crumpacker binged an easy one to Proe who booted the ball about the lot long enough to let the base runner reach first. Selecting one that came low over the plate, Hug committed the deed that told the story. A new man was in the La Grande lineup and the team was shifted considerably, too. Gray, a former Walla Walla man, now living here, played the center garden and though he had no chances in the field, he appears to be a good waiter, and twice got first on balls. Merrill Stoddard covered the initial sack nicely and his good nature makes a hit with the grand stand. Bradley was on third yesterday and got three putouts without any errors. Childers and Proe got three costly errors a piece.
