WHAT PAY ROLLS MEAN TO LA GRANDE.

People who live here all the time become accustomed to the pay rolls and treat them as a matter of fact, but the stranger who comes to the Northwest and hears that La Grande has pay rolls amounting to a million and a half a year at once becomes interested. He is more willing to take a chance in a city that has a circulating medium such as this city has, than in the city with no visible means of support.

This city is loyal to the pay roll institutions and she should be for without them there would be a noticeable difference in business.

The merit of the city whose population largely consists of men receiving pay checks is too patent to need mentioning, but the next move is to offer encouragement to all men earning salaries here to invest in this valley or Wallowa county.

If one only knew the total amount going out of La Grande for investment in other places he would be surprised. Yet there is no other locality that offers the returns on investment that this valley and Wallowa offers.

You may say, then why does the above named condition exist? The answer is simple and plain. There is not enough said of the resources of this part of the state even among our home people. When the outsider comes in with pretty pictures and stories of wealth to be made on investment he attracts many men who can afford to lay aside some money each month, and the reason he has not purchased a fruit tract here or a farm in Wallowa county is because the proposition has never been put to him as the outsider explains his offering.
