ERPERT CORDLEY WILL TELL LOCAL ORCHARDISTS MANY THINGS.

Formation of a Monster Class of Fruitmen is Now Under Way.

Formation of a class of orchardists to listen to the series of lectures to of the Agricultural College at Corvallis, who will be here for seven days during the chataugua, is now nder way, and it is believed that class of several dozen will be ormed. The gentleman is an expert f the matter of warring against orchard pests and he will lecture on that subject during the entire time of his presence in La Grande. The movement has been supported by every section of the county where exkined, and it is more than likely that a very large class will be formed. The cost of joining the class is merely that of purchasing a season ticket to the chautaugua.

Mr. Cordley is an expert of the first water. He devotes his life to the principal cities of the Northwest. study of orchard pests and to the best methods of estimating them. It is freely admitted that as the fruit sections grow and become thickly settled, the pests have to be fought on a more systematic plan and Mr. Cordley will tell the orchardists of his valley how best to fight against them. All who wish to join the class should notify Secretary George T Cochran.

Prosecute Fish Dealers.

San Francisco, June 9.-When California orange growers dumped large quantities of fruit into the sea. in order to maintain prices, a cry of order to maintain prices, a cry of which put a stop to the practice. Lately it has developed that San Francisco fish companies and dealers have adopted similar practices in order to hold up the public, and several offenders have been indicted and will be vigorously prosecuted under the Cartwright law.
