DAY FOR CHERRY SHOW SET

PROMOTERS BIDE THEIR TIME IN ANNOUNCING DATE.

Fruit Crop at Cove Promises Riches For The Producers Again.

Cove cherry growers are biding their time before announcing the dates of the first annual cherry show which Cove is planning. The dates will correspond with the ripening of the fruit and just as soon as it can be forecasted with any degree of certainty on what days the cherries will be at their best, the show dates will be given due publicity. Chris M. Stackland, one of the Cove promoters of the show, was in the city today and stated that the movement is a popular one at Cove. The show will be held late this month likely.

Crop Indications Good.

The cherry crop, states Mr. Stackland, will not be quite as extensive as last year when Cove was one of the few districts that boasted of bumper crops, but the grade of fruit will be better by far. It will mature much earlier than last year.

Many Employees Needed.

About 300 will be needed in Cove alone this year for a period of three weeks to care for the harvest of the fruit. Peaches promise a big crop, of good varieties, and the prune crop will be enormous. Strawberries were prolific and the harvest is well advanced.

A big crop of raspberries is also in sight, and all in all, fruit growers in and about Cove—like other sections of the valley—see a very profitable year in returns from orchards.

A Gala Day at Allee.

(By a Visitor.)

One of the many prosperous communities of the fertile Grande Ronde valley is the village of Allee named for Allee Ladd. It is a neighborhood of farmers, thrifty well-to-do folk, hard-working and wide-awake.

They have recently built themselves one of the neatest and most presentable little churches to be seen in a day's ride and are justly proud of it. Their Sunday school already taxes its capacity and the congregations yesterday were too great for it. A series of special meetings have been in progress for a few weeks under the direction of Rev. H. Martin, pastor, who is most ably assisted by Rev. L. C. Elliott, who was with him in the Summerville meetings of so great power. To date there have been approximately one hundred conversions, a Methodist Episcopal church of about sixty or more has been organized, (yesterday there were twenty-five additions,) and forty-three persons were baptized by the District superintendent, Dr. Gillilan, twenty-one of them by immersion.

It was a day never-to-be-forgotten for that community and the end is not yet. Meetings continue.

A Judicial Favor.

A verdant local reporter whose propensities incline to daring rather than to judgment and whose ardency in the quest of news is one of his marked characteristics approached a judge of the United States district court and solicited a little advance information on a case in progress in the judge's court.

"You see, judge," said the youngster to the astonished jurist, "we go to press in a few moments, and we all know your inclination to do a newspaper man a favor."

The venerable man eyed the youth sternly and said slowly and emphatically:

"Yes, young man, I'll do you a favor this time, and you will see that you don't ask me again."

"That's fine, your honor. Thanks, very much. Just a few lines will do."

"I will do you this favor," shall not send you to jail this time, at if you ever approach me again with such a question your friends will not see you for some time."

The discomfited reporter retired ruminating on the mysteries of the law and the dignities pertaining to the judiciary.—Philadelphia Ledger.
