the Airdome theatre company, was again carrying her role last evening after several days of illness in which she was a patient at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Folsom, prominent residents of Pendleton, are in the city for a few days as the guests of Doctor and Mrs. P. A. Charlton.

H. A. Corpe, clerk of the Merchants' Protective association, is out today for the first time since he was taken seriously ill some time ago.

C. W. Todd the Portland horse buyer who comes to Union county when he wants a carload of choice animals, is here today buying horses.

Attorney Fred Wilson a well known resident of The Dalles where he is district attorney, passed through the city yesterday morning on his way eastward.

Edw. Berland, a prominent business man and member of the city council of Joseph, passed through the city yesterday with his bride, a Miss Kelsey, of Portland.

Miss Bess Burke, a former La Grande girl who has been living in Portland for the past year or more, is here and plans to spend the summer in La Grande.

Ferry Clark, who has been in the hospital here for some time, continues to show considerable improvement and hopes for his ultimate recovery are now held out.

"Jerry" McKennon returned this morning from Corvallis and Portland where he was called by the rose show attractions and the quarter-centennial celebration at O. A. C.

A large batch of decisions of the Commissioner of the General Land Office on matters appealed from the La Grande office was received this morning, and the local office was affirmed in each case.

Water Superintendent and Mrs. H.
C. Gilman, arrived home this morning from Portland, where they have witnessed the many pageants and other things of interest in connection with the rose festival.

lived in this vicinity, but who moved to Ashland later, has now sold his property there and was in the city this morning on his way to Alice to visit with old time friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Booth, of Roseburg, were in the city this morning while Mr. Booth was attending to business matters, and the two enjoyed a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Carp of this city, they being old-time friends.

J. B. Stoddard, the Fruitdale orchardist, arrived home today from Portland, fully recovered from a delicate operation which he sustained while away. He has been in a Portland hospital several weeks, but is now fully recovered. Doctor N. Molitor of this city performed the operation.

C. C. Pennington, the clothing dealer, has returned from Portland where he attended the rose show and is loud in his praises of the entire week's festivities. Like so many others, he came back even more devotedly attached to La Grande than when he went away.

fish, report the fishermen. The Wallowa river is yet too high for satisfactory fishing is also reported by them.

County Assessor T. A. Rinehart has returned from Olex, Oregon, where the annual Rinehart reunion was held this year. The place is 18 miles from Arlington. About seventy-five Rine-harts were registered and the usual interesting time and family reunion joys were participated in by the representatives of what is said to be the largest clan in Oregon.

Mrs. J. M. McCall returned home Saturday from an extended visit in California.

"In Old Kentucky" Good.
With special scenery and an excellent cast, Lowe's Stock Co. gave the best presentation of "In Old Kentucky" at the Airdome last night seen in many years in this part of the country.

Miss Louise Kelley made quite a favorable impression in the part of "Miss Letha," and Miss Lowe as "Madge," was excellent. Tom Post as "Uncle Neb" and Mr. Simpkins as "Col. Sanducky Doolittle," ably, took care of the comedy in a most creditable manner. In fact the whole show was good, one being able to get a glimpse of life in the "blue grass" state "befo' de wah."

"In Old Kentucky" will run until Thursday night, when a new play will commence.

FIND TRACE OF CHARLTON

ALLEGED MURDERER SAID TO BE HIDING IN SWITZERLAND.

Coat Found By Fishermen That Is Identified as Charlton's.

Como, June 13.—The local police today received word that Porter Charlton, the young Washington suspected of the murder of his wife, Mary Scott Castle, whose body was found in a trunk in Lake Como, was seen in Lucerne, Switzerland. In the meantime, Isapolatoff, the Russian, who rented the couple villas, is believed held the opinion being divided regarding the identity of the murderer.
Some believe that Charlton has been murdered. To assure the authorities, the officials today began digging up the grounds around the Villa looking for the possible body of Charlton.

There are numerous queer circumstances surrounding the murder.

The police found blood stains on the mattresses, linen and towels in the little villa occupied by the Charltons, indicating that perhaps two persons were slain there or that a desperate struggle occurred in which Mrs. Charlton was rendered unconscious. If only one murder was committed, the police believe that Mrs. Charlton fought with de-monical strength and severely injured her assailant, for the blood stains were too large and too many in number to have come from one person.

Charlton's Coat Found.

Como, June 13, 2:30 p. m.—Fishermen this afternoon found a coat that has been identified as one worn by Charlton in a lake. This strengthens the theory that he met the same fate as his wife.
