CIRCUS DAY IS CHILLY ONE

CROWDS FROM OUT OF TOWN ARE NOT UP TO RECORDS.

Notwithstanding That Weather Hindered, Good Shows Promised.

Campbell Brothers' circus is showing a double performance in La Grande today, despite the intermittent showers and somewhat disagreeable weather. Though the crowd in the city from out of town was not up to the standard, the attendance this afternoon at the show grounds was indicative of the popularity of the show.

The circus carries a fine line of attractions and comment this afternoon from the main arena are to the effect that Campbell Brothers have a first class circus. The parade this morning was somewhat dampened in splendor on account of the bad weather, but the line of march was nevertheless the gathering places of a large number of people.

The customary early morning exodus to the railroad yards was repeated and in fact everything that a circus implies was carried out.

The afternoon performance opened promptly at 2 o'clock, with the "grand entry" and the kids were happy, while "pa" and "ma" looked on and smiled.

Campbell Brothers have a good entertainment. Their feature acts were as entertaining as those seen in the larger shows. Lamy Brothers, aerial performers, did some clever work and received round after round of applause. Berre and Hicks composed a team that would be hard to beat. They appeared in several acts on the wire and ladders and accomplished some seemingly impossible feats.

Good Slack Wire Work.

Signo, the slack wire performer, who is recognized as one of the greatest men in his line in the world, was a feature of the program. Not only did he stand on a ladder and do a juggling act on the loose wire, but he set the crowd marveling when he stepped into a pack measure on the wire and, in short jumps, traveled forward and back several feet.

The Dimitri troupe of Cossacks accomplished some wonderful riding.

The cowboy act of the Linton brothers was exceptionally well executed. These young men are as handy with the rope as they are in the saddle and the lasso work they pulled off was more than ordinarily clever.

The menagerie contained a number of valuable animals, representing the fast diminishing and rare inhabitants of the wilds of foreign lands. The baby tigers and the den of seals, secured in Santa Barbara, Cal., the elephants, camels and ponies attracted the most attention in this tent.

ROOSEVELT WEDDING SOON.

Teddy Jr., Will Be Married Four Days Hence.

New York, June 16.—Four days hence, when pretty Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander becomes the bride of "Teddy" Roosevelt, Jr., she will receive a host of presents from relatives and friends, but none will be more highly appreciated than the gift she has already received from her mother. This consists of enough household linen to last the young couple the remainder of their lives. For months expert needlewomen have been employed in embroidering the dainty and snowy linen, which will first be put to use when the bride and groom begin housekeeping in their new home in San Francisco.

There are dozens and dozens of everything, table and tea cloths, luncheon cloths and doilies to use on the polished mahogany. Some hand-embroidered cloths with inserts of French cluny and filet lace cost about $150 each; less elaborate ones $75.

WATER USERS IN A DILEMMA

EVEN DOZEN LOSE WATER RIGHTS THIS MORNING.

Rigid Enforcement of Pay-up-Quick Rule is Being Followed.

Rigid enforcement of the recently regulation in administration affairs pertaining to collection of water rents, was emphasized this morning when an even dozen patrons of the service were suddenly bereft of service. In most instances neglect to pay before the 10th of the month was oversight merely and immediately after the service had been disconnected, prompt payments were made.

The payments must be in the hands of the water department before the tenth of each month or immediately disconnection of service will follow. This is the first month that the new rule has been observed and cuts were made indiscriminately.

and rich damask cloths for breakfast and simple dinners figured up about $30 apiece without the embroidery, which, of course, is very elaborate and beautiful and correspondingly costly. Some of the simpler damasks are in striped designs, and have napkins to match, while many are like bits of gorgeous satin brocade, showing elaborate floral patterns.

The bed linen is quite as beautiful as that procured by Mrs. Alexander for her daughter's table. There are piles of snowy sheets of sheerest linen, woven and embroidered in France, to which the bride's monogram was a scalloped edge, with a sort of embroidered beading about two inches below, while others show a sort of scalloped edge, with a foliated border underneath.

The pillow slips match, and like the napkins and table cloths, are all embroidered with the bride's monogram.

three initials, E. B. A., set in a circle. This circle is divided into three sections, one for each letter, which, in a clever sort of a way, squares the circle, perhaps not mathematically, but that is about the only way the design can be even vaguely described. The round medallion containing the bride's cypher is small for the napkins, and is wrought in the centre of these, while for the table cloths it is much larger, and placed on the latter in the centre of the turnover on top. The pillow slips are embroidered a bit above the hems.

The fleecy white blankets which have not a trace of color on them, are heavily embroidered with the same device in white silk, and the white silk down filled coverlets are also embroidered in a similar way.

Nordica a Suffragette.

New York, June 16.—Mme. Nordica who has become an enthusiastic suffragist, will give a concert at Irvington-on-the-Hudson tonight for the benefit of the cause.

A Eugene man made barrels amounting to more than $1000 in southern Oregon stage proprietor.
