STEWARDS COME TO GRIEF.

Restlessly Waiting in Bad Lands for Arrival of Extras for Auto.

D. H. Steward, wife and grandson, are having grief in interior Nevada. When a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. De Vere of this city was written, the opera house manager was serenely eating dust in the sage brush districts, waiting beside a black smith shop for repairs. What is worse, Mr. Steward's stogies are running low. The party will be forced to wait by the wayside smithy until repairs for the machine can be sent from La Grande, which will require a couple of days at the very best. "I don't see how anyone can live in this section where sage brush and dust are so thick that nothing else can be found," writes Mrs. Steward. This is the first accident which has befallen the party on their way into interior Nevada where they will spend several weeks visiting friends.

GILLILAN SEES DUTY.

Sergeant With Third Infantry Participates in Moro's Capture.

Sergeant Carl Gillilan, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Gillilan of this city, is participating in real "duty" with the Third Infantry, regulars, at a small island near Borneo, according to advices received through newspaper cablegrams. The Third Infantry was yesterday sent out to quell and capture murderous Moros who have killed Dutch traders, by order of the commander at Camp Jolo where the Third Infantry is stationed. Mr. Gillilan is an officer of that regiment and is of course participating in the attack on the blood thirsty Moros. Naturally enough local people who know Mr. Gillilan will be anxious to hear more from the crusade against the man killers.

Isis Change up to Date.

Nothing could be more up to the hour than a Roosevelt picture, and the Isis is running a picture tonight that pictures Roosevelt in Cairo. The story is interesting in the extreme in that it deals with so important a personage, and is of course fresh and up to date. In addition to the Roosevelt film, there are several others, the list of which appears in the house ad. in this issue.

DELEGATE IS HOME.

Knights Have Big Time in Metropolis During Convention Week.

J. F. Baker, delegate to the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, grand domain of Oregon, returned last evening from Portland where he attended the several sessions of the grand lodge. The attendance was large—about 160 delegates being present. They met in Ivanhoe Lodge No. 1 on Monday night and an informal meeting of all the Knights in the city was held to start the convention. On Tuesday night the degree of the order, Knights of Khroassan. The grand officers were elected on Tuesday and installed on Wednesday. After the business meeting and entertaining love feasts were held, at which speeches were made, many of the prominent members of the order participating. The next session will be held in Astoria, being the centennial anniversary of the founding of that city by the Hudson Bay Company and named in honor of John Jacob Astor.

Birth Record.

Born in this city, June 23d, 1910, to Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Redfern, a son.
