Fight Pullman Reductions.

Chicago, July 7.—Declaring a reduction of the pullman rates would cause a loss of $166,000 between Seattle and St. Paul alone, and proportionate loss between other cities, Attorney Fernald for the Pullman company, today argued for a re-hearing of an Injunction prohibiting the effectiveness of the pullman rates.

"In the Hands of the Czar."

A bill different from most stock company plays in that it deals with the intrigues of a foreign court, "In the Hands of the Czar," will open tonight at the Airdome.

Miss Tucker is exceptionally clever in this play, she having received very flattering press notices from all the leading papers of the country.

WEEDS MUST BE CARED FOR

LAWS REGARDING OBNOXIOUS WEEDS SPECIFIC.

Turner Oliver Deals With Question of Weeds Throughout County.

To the Editor:

The law of this state regarding the extirpation of noxious weeds is being so flagrantly violated in Union county and especially in the city of La Grande that I think the attention of the people ought to be called to the matter. Certain noxious weeds have got such a start in this state that they are causing millions of dollars worth of damage to the people and unless all the people act together there can be no hope of ever getting rid of these weeds. For that reason the legislature in 1907 passed an act which will be found at pages 322 to 325 of the General Laws of Oregon for that session. Of this act the following is a brief epitome: Section 1 makes it the duty of each road supervisor to ascertain and know whether there are in his road district any Russian thistle, Canadian thistle, Chinese thistle, (Chinese lettuce), white mustard, dagger cocklebur or silver hal-bush, and if he finds any such plants in his road district he must notify the owners of the land before the plant sheds its bloom or commences to form seed, by serving notice upon the owner or occupant of the land and if there is no occupant, by posting up notices upon the premises. He shall then make his return to the county clerk, showing notice posted or served. If the owner shall fail after three days' notice to completely remove and destroy said weeds it shall be the duty of the road supervisor to go upon the premises with hired assistance and extirpate from the land all such weeds and file the bill for his services with the county clerk, who will report the same to the county court and the county court will pay for the services out of the county treasury and charge the expenses up to the land as a lien against the land the same as taxes, and the land can be sold to satisfy this lien. The road supervisor shall receive for such services $3.00 per day for the time actually employed.

Section 6 makes it a misdemeanor for any person to knowingly allow any Russian thistle, Canada thistle, Chinese thistle, white mustard, dagger cocklebur or silver belt bush to stand until it sheds its bloom and begins to form seed on any lands owned by him or under his control whether improved or unimproved, enclosed or unenclosed, and subjects such person to a fine of not to exceed $50.00 for the first offense and not to exceed $100 for each subsequent offense and gives the justice of the peace jurisdiction to impose the fines.

Section 7 makes it the duty of each road supervisor to extirpate all these weeds from the county roads within their respective road districts, and section 8 imposes a fine not to exceed $150 for each offense of the road supervisor in failing to perform this duty.

Section 9 makes it the duty of all municipal corporations in the state to exterminate these weeds within the corporation and imposes a fine of not more than $500 upon each municipal corporation for the offense of allowing any of these weeds to grow within the corporation. This fine to be recovered in a suit against the city by the county in which the city is located.

Notwithstanding the stringent and wholesome provisions of this statute, only a few of the road supervisors are paying any attention to it and their work is being rendered useless by the failure of the rest. Nearly all these weeds exist in Union county, but the worst pest here is the white mustard which was brought in and distributed along the railroad right of way by the cars and was allowed to seed because people did not know what it was. It is a thrifty plant; each weed bearing upwards of 200,000 seeds. As soon as it ripens it breaks off at the ground and is rolled by the wind like a tumble weed for many miles scattering its seeds in its track. There are solid fields of this plant around La Grande and enough of it going to seed within the corporate limits to destroy the crop of a state. It has already dropped its bloom and in many places the seeds are now mature. There is now enough of it ripening on the sugar company's grounds at La Grande to seed a whole county, notwithstanding the work being done by the road supervisors in the central part of the county. There is enough of it along the railroad company's right of way within two miles of La Grande, to destroy the crops in all parts of Grande Ronde valley, but I am pleased to notice that the railroad company is cutting this plant on a part of its right of way but ought to do it the rest. Between the court house and Adams avenue in La Grande, enough of this plant is going to seed to ruin many of the surrounding farms, while the O'Connor tract in the eastern part of this city is maturing enough of this seed to cover Union and Wallowa counties. The plant itself is useless for any known purpose. It will grow anywhere that the seed may be dropped, whether in the cultivated field or the rocky hillside, and the ripened plant will roll anywhere that the wind carries it. Then why not everybody observe this law and exterminate these pests? It will take a tremendous effort but all must act together if the good end is ever accomplished and is the city neglects this matter longer. It is the duty of the public officials to prosecute both the municipality and the careless land owners within the same. A few vigorous prosecutions would probably have a wholesome effect, but in the prosecutions let it be borne in mind that the corporations are subject to the same penalties as the individuals.

Patrons of Lewis Printery.
First, I wish to thank you for your kindness to me during the long years you have patronized my plant, and for the promptness in payment, and to announce that I have sold my printing plant and good will to Messrs. Whitton and Heubach, formerly of St. Charles, Minn., and to ask for them the same kind treatment always accorded me, believing they will give you better service than I have.
BIRD F. LEWIS.

As noted above, we have purchased the Lewis Printery and will conduct a general job printing business in the Lewis building. We solicit a share of the public patronage, which we shall endeavor to merit. The firm name will be Whitton & Heubach.
Respectfully,
J. E. WHITTON
E. W. HEUBACH.
