CAUSE OF DEATH IS UNKNOWN

MISTAKEN NOTION THAT CHILD SUFFOCATED IS WRONG.

Mother in Critical Condition from Brooding Over First Theory.

Death from some unknown cause late yesterday afternoon ended the life of a two and a half months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Holmes, though it was erroneously announced that the child had suffocated while asleep on his bed in the Holmes residence. The babe was discovered dead by Miss Logan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Logan, who stole in the room to get a "peep" at the supposedly sleeping youngster. The last spasms of death moved a pillow which had been placed in the rear of the baby's head to hold a fly screen, and from this incident was at first derived the belief that the child had suffocated. The funeral will be held tomorrow at Union where Mr. and Mrs. Holmes lived before moving to La Grande, where he is now employed by the Eastern Oregon Light and Power company.

The distracted mother is suffering terribly today. Physicians and friends cannot tear her mind from the mistaken idea that the child met death through possible negligence on the mother's part, and her condition is critical this afternoon.

The baby was an exceptionally strong youngster and has been perfectly well up to the time of being placed in its bed, during the afternoon and it is believed some internal disorder was to blame for its death. Its abnormal strength would have prevented suffocation, as the pillow was but a child's affair, and not one of the ordinary bed pillows.

SOCIETY

Perhaps the most important event socially the past week was the Lyle Tuesday Musical day at the Chautauqua Thursday. A large number of ladies were attracted to the Chautauqua auditorium for the occasion and words of praise are heard on every hand for the efficiency of the program that day. Mrs. C. E. Moore was chairman of the Tuesday musical committee which had charge of the program.

The numbers rendered, to the edification of the audience, follow:

Miss Mabel Counsel, a winsome and popular young lady of Ladd Canyon, was married last Sunday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Counsel, to Charles Grandy of this city. The nuptials were performed by Justice of the Peace A. C. Williams, in the presence of relatives only. Mr. Grandy is a popular young man of this city, who has attained considerable fame in his football tags for local club and high school teams, and the bride is a well known Union county girl, who has a large circle of friends in her neighborhood, and throughout the valley. The bride wore a silk embroidered pongee gown. Mr. and Mrs. Grandy will live on the Grandy farm in Ladd Canyon.

ENORMOUS CHERRY TREE.

One Hundred Gallons of Royal Annes Grown on One Tree Near Island.

E. G. Couch claims a record that should be a topnotcher for crops on a single cherry tree. One hundred gallons were harvested from the tree in addition to a sprig brought to the Observer office, which had nearly a gallon on it. The crop appears fictitious but a good man makes the assertion and it can be banked upon.

Food Sale.

Eighty-acre farm, including forty acres of fall wheat that will average 35 bushels to the acre, is for sale if taken now. The crop will go with the place if purchased at once. The price is a snap and the owner can be seen on the place until July 18.

Isis Program Strong.

With more than the usual number of strong film pictures, the Isis is enjoying a good run this afternoon and will present the same pictures tonight. There is not a flaw in any one of the films, and from the start to the finish, the audience sees something worth while and interesting. The program, as announced in the house ad-

CONGRESS GRIEVES FOR KEIFER'S SWALLOWTAIL.

Veteran Ohioan Drops Dress Coat in Everyday Wear For Modern Sack.

The house of representatives gasped as one man recently when General J. Warren Keifer of Ohio, who is known as the only living dress suit statesman, appeared on the floor wearing a simple sack suit. For many years he has, sartorially speaking, turned night into day. A regulation evening swallowtail and a waistcoat cut low enough to show three buttons on a broad expanse of snowy linen have been part of his daylight costume.

General Keifer's new suit is not one of the Kollege Klothes kind. It is sedate in color and conservative in cut.

"I am going out to Ohio in a few days," said he. "The tailor persuaded me that this would prove more comfortable traveling attire than my swallowtail. I will not promise that the change shall be permanent."

Speaker Cannon noted the change with deepest emotion and trusted the

GENERAL KEIFER, FAMED FOR ARCHAIC ATTIRE, WOOES MODERN CLOTHES.

General Keifer's insurgency would extend no further. General Keifer was speaker in the early days of Mr. Cannon's services in the house.

Representative Stanley of Kentucky said:

"It is eminently proper that General Keifer should appear in his natty garb of gray. He is getting younger all the time. About this time in the next century I confidently hope to look down upon the youthful general disporting himself in knickerbockers."

An Improvement to Boston Parks.

The old wooden settees that for more than a quarter of a century have been used in the common and public garden and the other city parks have given away to a new style of bench composed of concrete and wood. This style of settee is considered far more comfortable and durable than the wooden bench, and within a week or two all the public parks and playgrounds will be equipped with them. The framework of the new bench is of concrete, with wooden backs and seats.

Street Numbers on Curbs.

After inspecting a sample at Pasadena avenue and Villa street in Pasadena, Cal., the council ordered that work continue on painting street numbers and names on curbs all over the city. The mayor and council made a trip of inspection to the sample work and were well pleased with the result. A painter will be hired at $8.50 a day and supplied with paint, and it is hoped to get the entire city covered within a short time, thus adding to the welfare of Pasadena.
