SEWER COSTS IN WRONG LIGHT

REMONSTRANCES LAST EVENING ADVANCE VARIOUS CAUSES

Found that Cost of Laying Sewers Will be Met by Abutting Property

City Engineer Curtiss issued a statement today that the cost of sewerage system would be met by all abutting property owners, reducing it approximately to 81 cents per foot. This is a material reduction over the original misunderstanding.

All councilmen were present last night excepting Church, Fleming and Kreiger—the first named because he was out of town, the second named, because his wife was ill, and the third because he is seriously ill. The session opened with a report from the street committee to the effect that the Sutherland bid of about $2,000 for 800 feet of sewerage project, was too high and the matter ended with a committee of Sheak, Logsdon and Andrews being empowered to confer with Mr. Sutherland, who was present and indicated that the price was not prohibitive because the contractor furnished everything but the pipe.

Listening to sewer remonstrances was the chief object of the meeting and the three districts were each represented. The North side remonstrated because so little water was used in that section and it would be hard to get connections with the main system. East Adams avenue objected because the taxes were already too high and it was thought best to lay the matter over for a time. The third district also remonstrated, advancing various causes.

The fact that the property owners have ten years in which to pay the assessment does not seem to be fully understood. The rate of interest is low, and even if the cost seems high, the annual expense to be carried is very small, when compared with the cost of building septic tanks. Mayor Meyers pointed out that an uniform system is worse than no system at all, and that while the administration is not trying to force any improvement on the people, this is a matter of public health, as the city is growing and needs the city improvements. Mr. Ferguson, proprietor of the Round Valley house, affirmed the project was unconstitutional but City Attorney Baker made it clear that the procedure was fully within the confines of the law on all points.

One remonstrance carried only eight names, because Rev. Ford Ellis, who had the regular petition, failed to appear, and the eight men signed a hastily prepared petition.

A large audience heard the discussion. A. M. Paul said the "Tin Horn" sewer now used was sufficient. C. A. Fowler said it would be advisable to try the sewerage system in the business district and then build on later if the system was found satisfactory.

Other Business Transacted.
The Eastern Oregon Light and Power contract advanced as a tentative one, was materially changed. The contract now reads that the company is to increase its plant with the expenditure of about $2,000, and the city is to contract for ten additional lights. The recorder was instructed to go into the matter of exact dates, for there seems to have been an oversight.

A petition from Cherry street property owners asks that the O. R. & N. be forced to build a crossing in compliance with the order issued by the council two years ago.

Contractor Darley's bill of $35 for drafting the disposal tank plans was allowed.

Sixth street property owners presented a petition asking that the paving matter be left unfinished as the corner lots would have to pay about $1100 and center lots about $600 for paving and for sewerage. The petition was laid on the table.
