

HAVE CLUE FROM ABOARD SHIP

COUPLE SUPPOSED TO BE CRIP-PEN AND COMPANION, FOUND

Scotland Yard Detective Leaves for Canada in Much Haste.

London, July 23.—Inspector Dow of Scotland Yard, left hurriedly for Canada today. He admitted that the purpose was to find Dr. Crippen, the alleged wife murderer. The Evening News declares Dow's departure followed the receipt of a wireless message that a couple answering to the description of Crippen and Madame Leneve was aboard the ship enroute to some Canadian port.

Northwest Wants School Teachers

Spokane, Wash., July 23.—Positions await several thousand teachers in the public schools in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, according to Bruce M. Watson, superintendent of schools in Spokane, who says that fully 500 will be required in this city next fall. There were 448 teachers on the city's payrolls last season, at salaries ranging from $55 to $90 a month.

One explanation offered for this unusual demand is that hundreds of teachers have left the profession the last few years to marry, while others entered other lines of work in the northwest.

"Hundreds of teachers from eastern states come to Washington every year who are qualified to teach when they arrive, having taught in other schools," said Dr. H. W. Allen, chairman of the board of education of Spokane, "and this is true of Oregon, Idaho, Montana and other states in the west. No statistics are available as to the exact number of teachers who obtain positions here each year, but it is probably safe to say that 33 per cent of next year's force in this state will consist of teachers who are from eastern and central states, or of those who have had no previous experience.

"Statistics compiled in Iowa show that the teaching force of that state changes every three years, while of the 5,533 teachers receiving certificates in Kansas last year 3,369 had no previous experience. The many new schools opened in Washington and other northwestern states each year, and the added number of teachers needed each succeeding year in all of our rapidly growing cities and towns, causes an unusual demand for recruits to the teaching staffs. Because of the many opportunities in other lines of work a large percentage of teachers leave the profession in this and other states in the northwest each year than in eastern states."

ENGLAND TO GO EAST SOON

PREPARATIONS GOING ON FOR THE NEW ROAD

Superintendent England Begins Signing of Grade Contract.

Supt. England expects to leave for Boston, soon, to look after some matters connected with the construction of the railroad from Union to Walla Walla, says the Union Republican. He knows nothing of reported signing of grading contracts as reported from Elgin this week, on the authority of Dan Sommers.

Supt. England, of the Central, took the band boys over to Cove Monday night on the railroad's new gasoline car and they went like lightning until the car struck the grade into Cove, when the engine balked temporarily and the boys shoved the car into camp. But it came back all right, making record time, and the boys enjoyed the trip greatly.

Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp will entertain the ladies of the Five Hundred club at her home on Second street, this evening, in honor of Mrs. Dr. Moore and Miss Judith Snodgrass.

Mrs. H. M. Bay entertained the married ladies' club Wednesday afternoon, sewing and refreshments constituting the afternoon's pleasures.

Brazil Trade Will Grow.

Washington, July 25.—Special.—"This country is going to see a tremendous growth in its trade with Brazil," remarked the Hon. John Barrett, director of the bureau of American republics, while discussing the forthcoming visit of the president-elect of Brazil a few days ago. "The visit of the president-elect of Brazil, Marshal Hermes da Fonseca," continued Mr. Barrett, "which will occur early next month, will be an event of great importance to this country, as well as to Brazil. Few persons realize that Brazil is the second country in the western hemisphere; that its area is greater than that of continental United States, that its population is over twenty millions, and that it is a most enterprising, wealthy, prosperous and civilized nation. Brazil produces the larger part of the coffee of the world. It is the chief source of the rubber supply. It produces cocoa, cattle, grain, tobacco, cotton, rice, sugar, in fact almost everything that can be grown in the temperate and tropical zones. The imports of Brazil are tremendous in volume. If most of them come from Europe rather than the United States it is a very largely because our people have been so busy meeting the demands at home that they could not meet those from abroad; but Marshal da Fonseca has a great desire to see this country sell more goods to Brazil. We are among the best customers Brazil has, and I predict that Brazil will become one of the best customers we have. The visit of a man, who, in a very few months, is to become the head of a great nation, is an event of transcontinental importance to this country. It will be observed in a proper manner by the president and the state department, and also by many municipalities which will be visited by the distinguished guest."

For the benefit of many persons who may not have kept in touch with political affairs in the southern republic, it may be stated that Marshal da Fonseca, nephew of the president of Brazil, is a man who has worked his way up in the army to the highest position in it. He is a man of great learning, a polished statesman, a writer of subtlety and power, and a man, in short, possessed of the graces of refinement as well as the virtues of the soldier and the statesman. Brazil has produced many great men, but few who could claim to be the superior of the president-elect of the country.

With almost unparalleled resources at its command, Brazil has recently entered on a policy of expansion and development. That country, with its vast opportunities, is extending a welcome to enterprise and capital, and it seems to be on the threshold of a tremendous development industrially, commercially, agriculturally, and educationally. The foremost citizen of that country is now about to visit this country, as the Emperor of Brazil did 35 years ago, to learn the best we have to teach him, and the visit can hardly fail to prove of benefit to this country as well as to Brazil.
