ETHEL TUCKER STOCK COMPANY TO SHOW ON BIG STAGE

Elaborate production of "The Squaw Man" at Ball Park This Week.

Miss Ethel Tucker, assisted by her manager, Mr. Charles Baker, has conceived and tomorrow evening will commence to execute one of the most novel entertainments that this city has had pleasure of witnessing in many years, if ever.

Miss Ethel Tucker, now playing at the Airdome has dreamed what she calls a "Midsummer Night's Dream", of an amusement for La Grande, the likes of which has never before been attempted before, nor even thought of.

The proposition consists of a regular amphitheatre staged in front, brilliant light effects, splendid music by the La Grande band, genuine cowboys, Indians and everything that will go to make up one of the greatest productions for a town of this size that has ever been attempted.

The play will be that beautifully written and intensely absorbing dramatization of the "Squaw Man," by

W. W. Faversham. The atmosphere of the play is compelling, the story appealing and most absorbing, the characters are powerfully drawn and are real and human.

Miss Tucker, by the way, has a special gift for stage direction with an intuitive sense of character and dramatic situations and has thought out some wonderful effects for the "Squaw Man."

Mr. Simpkins, the scenic artist will have full charge of the scenery and Mr. Hunt, stage manager, will superintend the erection and equipping of the mammoth stage and its settings. The first production will be given on Thursday evening, July 28.

A big parade will take place tomorrow.

Any loose stock in the city will be taken to the pound at once.

G. W. FARRIS, Poundmaster
