Prague English.
For English speaking guests in the Hotel Mucopol at Prague is this sign:
"To blow out the electric lights, turn the button. Wine lists are a hanging in the ground floor."

Lead Pipes.
By polishing lead pipes with pumice and a wet rag and then applying white varnish they may be kept bright indefinitely.

Heat Measurement.
A calorie, the unit of measurement, is that quantity of heat required to raise the temperature of one gram of water one degree centigrade.

A Rub For Tennyson.
When Alfred Tennyson appeared in the Oxford theater to receive his D. C.
L. degree it is said that his disheveled hair and generally negligent state provoked the undergraduates into greeting him with the inquiry, "Did your mother call you early, call you early, Alfred, dear?"

First Printed Almanac.
The first printed almanac was the "Pro Pluribus Annis," issued at Vienna in 1457 by an astronomer named Purbach.

Parasite Flowers.
Curious excrescences resembling rude flowers grow on trees in Tierra del Fuego. These are found to be due to a parasitic growth, but the "flowers" consist of the inner wood of the tree which has been forced through the bark and assumes various fanciful shapes, often those of the classical acanthus, seen on Corinthian capitals.
The parasite that causes the growth is a relative of the mistletoe.

New Brunswick Forests.
New Brunswick has about 8,000,000 acres of fir, spruce and pine.

Milk to Let.
English is sadly misused at times on the continent of Europe. One sign in Genoa, Italy, reads, "Dinner—Wine Inclosed," and another "Milk For Sale or to Let."

Lisbon and Fish.
It is estimated that every inhabitant of Lisbon eats half a pound of fish daily.
The city has its fishing fleet of forty-six vessels, some of which go as far as the coast of Morocco, sixty miles away.

Salmon Skin Leather.
The inhabitants of the eastern coasts of the middle of Asia clothe themselves with the tanned skins of the salmon. It is asserted that it makes a leather as tough as wash leather.

Tontis, the Neapolitan.
The modern business of life insurance is a gradual development of the associations formed by Tontis, a Neapolitian adventurer, in 1653. The members of Tontis's associations paid a certain sum of money into a fund, the interest on which was divided annually among the surviving members.

Sandpaper.
The best sandpaper is made from powdered port wine and stout bottles.

Canadian Sealers.
The seamen who ship on sailing cruisers from Canada get a proportionate share of the catch. During the course of a profitable season an ordinary seaman will receive $1,000 or more as his share.
