Misfortune in Aeroplane.

London, Aug. 22.—Misfortune continued to pursue Moissant today. After circling high into the air in an attempt to fly from Upchurch to London, a high wind finally compelled him to desist. He flew to Seven Oaks, went far to windward of London, and descended in a field with a broken propeller, planes and rudder. He said later that he intended to try it again tomorrow. Seven Oaks 22 miles east of London. In course of the flight, a gale tipped the aeroplane dangerously.

Roosevelt Off On Tour.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 22.—Roosevelt tomorrow begins his first series of speaking tours, during which he will travel over five thousand miles. His first address will be at Utica, N. Y., but he will speak informally at a number of towns enroute. Most western points reached are Denver and Cheyenne.

Subscribers Read and Tell Your Friends!

Owing to the fact that there are a number of people in Union and Wallowa counties who do not take the Observer and are missing the news of this wide-awake paper, we have decided to furnish them not only the best paper in the two counties, but a famous weekly in addition.

REMEMBER

Every Subscriber will Receive a Years Subscription to The American Weekly At No Additional Cost.

And those who are not taking the best paper in the Grande Ronde Valley—The Observer—can avail themselves of the same offer.

THE TWO PAPERS, FOR THE PRICE OF "THE OBSERVER"

The American Weekly is without a peer in the weekly newspapers of the great West, containing a full magazine and news sections, with articles by Arthur Brisbane, Elia Wheeler Wilcox, Elbert Hubbard, Dr. Parkhurst, Beatrice Fairfax, Alice Jordan, and other noted writers.

In addition the first section has a page devoted to the boys and girls, offering them many prizes. A double page of interesting information for young ladies and mothers, embracing a full pattern page, clever suggestions for the nursery, sick room, kitchen and household in general. Always a number of the latest short stories, one or more continued stories, and one prize complete story in each issue.

The stock and scientific farming department gives the farmer the most authentic information regarding the care of their stock and flocks. The comic page appeals to the old and young alike, a good hearty laugh in each picture. In addition to the above it tells the news of the world. A full page of sports, showing the standing of all the large ball clubs in the United States, is also given.
