MORE VICTIMS FROM FIRE

Spokane, Aug. 25.—Hope for the safety of a party of 85 fire fighters, headed by Joe Halm, of Spokane, has been practically abandoned today, according to a special from Wallace. They have been three days fighting at the head waters of the St. Joe and have been unheard from despite the desperate efforts that have been made to communicate with them.

Forestry experts today stated that on an estimate there had been fully 15,000 dollars worth of timber destroyed in the state of Idaho.

Forest Supervisor Weigl of Wallace today wired that the official of known dead, numbers to date, among the fire fighters, 84. Two bands of the fire fighters, last heard from who are in the hottest of the St. Joe river fire and numbering 185 men are missing and cannot be located. A relief party is now enroute to the headwaters of the St. Joe in search of the missing men. It is now believed that fully 150 dead will be the count when the full reports are in. Thirty are dead at Grande Forks, 12 at Avery, 20 at Setzer Creek, 8 at Bullion, 1 Boulder Creek, 2 Pine Creek, 2 Rock Creek.

Montana Sees Relief.

Helena, Mont. Aug. 25.—Governor Norris will probably not send out any more troops unless the situation in Montana grows worse. The wind is moderating much and snow and rain yesterday did much to confine the fires to areas already burning. The troops are held in readiness, however, and will be sent out if necessary.

The most threatened district today seems to be at Thompson Falls in the western portion of the state along Clark's Ford Valley. A steady down pour of rain yesterday saved the Flat head country and snow checked the flames in the higher districts in the mountains and in the Gallatin forests.

Vancouver, Wash., Aug. 25.—Forest fires in Clark county have already done a quarter of a million dollars' worth of damage and is threatening lives. Hundreds of settlers have fled to the village of Battleground. Eleven men in Badberry camp are missing. The village of Eureka is surrounded and fire and communication with Yecolt is lost. Before the wires went down, it is reported 250 employees at the Twin Falls logging company, were hemmed in with a ravine the only avenue of escape. The settlement of Shanghai, consisting of 80 houses, was destroyed last night.

Prospect is Threatened.

Medford, Aug. 25.—The little town of Prospect is threatened, and one hundred soldiers and fifty civilians are attempting to check the fire. The situation at Ashlan is improved, and unless a high wind comes it is believed the city will be out of danger.

Subscribers Read and Tell Your Friends!

Owing to the fact that there are a number of people in Union and Wallowa counties who do not take the Observer and are missing the news of this wide-awake paper, we have decided to furnish them not only the best paper in the two counties, but a famous weekly in addition.

REMEMBER Every Subscriber will Receive a Years Subscription to The American Weekly At No Additional Cost.

And those who are not taking the best paper in the Grande Ronde Valley—The Observer—can avail themselves of the same offer.

THE TWO PAPERS FOR THE PRICE OF "THE OBSERVER"

The American Weekly is without a peer in the weekly newspapers of the great West, containing a full magazine and news sections, with articles by Arthur Brisbane, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Elbert Hubbard, Dr. Parkhurst, Beatrice Fairfax, Alice Jordan, and other noted writers.

In addition the first section has a page devoted to the boys and girls, offering them many prizes. A double page of interesting information for young ladies and mothers, embracing a full pattern page, clever suggestions for the nursery, sick room, kitchen and household in general. Always a number of the latest short stories, one or more continued stories, and one prize complete story in each issue.

The stock and scientific farming department gives the farmer the most authentic information regarding the care of their stock and flocks. The comic page appeals to the old and young alike, a good hearty laugh in each picture. In addition to the above it tells the news of the world. A full page of sports, showing the standing of all the large ball clubs in the United States, is also given.
