GLASSES

Were invented a great many years ago—so were eyes. The eyes in construction are the same today, but the glasses have changed. The science of optics has steadily advanced, until now we are able to find glasses to correct all defects of vision, and these defects are many and of varied forms. Few persons, comparatively speaking, have perfect eyes; an eye which is not perfect is an annoyance to the brain; the eye and brain are very intimately connected. When the eyes differ we have unequal vision—unequal vision causes headaches and nervousness; these are symptoms of eyestrain. I correct unequal vision with lenses scientifically made. Optical lenses are made from scientifically made glass, except in cheap spectacles; in these the glass is made the same as for the windows. I use pure and faultless crystals only.

All broken lenses replaced while you wait. Charges are reasonable.

Subscribers Read and Tell Your Friends!

Owing to the fact that there are a number of people in Union and Wallowa counties who do not take the Observer and are missing the news of this wide-awake paper, we have decided to furnish them not only the best paper in the two counties, but a famous weekly in addition.

REMEMBER Every Subscriber will Receive a Years Subscription to The American Weekly At No Additional Cost.

And those who are not taking the best paper in the Grande Ronde Valley—The Observer—can avail themselves of the same offer.

THE TWO PAPERS FOR THE PRICE OF "THE OBSERVER"

The American Weekly is without a peer in the weekly newspapers of the great West, containing a full magazine and news sections, with articles by Arthur Brisbane, Elia Wheeler Wilcox, Elbert Hubbard, Dr. Parkhurst, Beatrice Fairfax, Alice Jordan, and other noted writers.

In addition the first section has a page devoted to the boys and girls, offering them many prizes. A double page of interesting information for young ladies and mothers, embracing a full pattern page, clever suggestions for the nursery, sick room, kitchen and household in general. Always a number of the latest short stories, one or more continued stories, and one prize complete story in each issue.

The stock and scientific farming department gives the farmer the most authentic information regarding the care of their stock and flocks. The comic page appeals to the old and young alike, a good hearty laugh in each picture. In addition to the above it tells the news of the world. A full page of sports, showing the standing of all the large ball clubs in the United States, is also given.
