RAILROAD NEWS.

Passenger Engine 199, commonly known as the hoodoo, is pretty well stripped and will be out of commission for some time.

The wheels are being sent to Albina for new tires.

The "dog house" is on wheels but will soon be located permanently. It has been moved to one side now, so that digging trenches for foundations for the new building may proceed unhampered. It is believed the dog house will be moved back to a point where it stood before going across the yards to the north side edge.

Within the near future passengers will be carried on the fast mail between here and Baker City and Huntington. This arrangement will afford a very desirable opportunity for people to go to Baker City and return the same day.

Commencing with No. 10, August 28, will put a coach on No. 10, leaving La Grande at 5:15 a. m. for Huntington, to take care of passengers for Baker City and Huntington or local points on the O. S. L. as far as Nampa. J. H. KEENEY.

SPORTING COMMENT AND KINDRED SUBJECTS

Columbia College at Milton is anxious for a game with La Grande high this fall, and Manager Grady is now in communication with the collegians regarding a probable date. It is possible that the two teams will meet on Thanksgiving day, if at all.

To date, 870 fishing licenses and 540 hunters' licenses have been issued by County Clerk Ed Wright, demonstrating the degree to which hunting and fishing is popular in this county.

If the will of the anglers of this county is carried out, some of the moneys collected for the sale of fishing licenses will go to maintain trout hatcheries in this state. The movement is a commendable and is becoming so generally adopted as a slogan, that it is safe to predict the next legislature will do something of that sort.

La Grande sends a team of baseball players to Baker City tomorrow. The lineup will include some of the old standbys, and some excellent ball is anticipated. Charles Conkey is the "McCredie" of the aggregation.

Fewer tourists have passed through La Grande this week than any time this summer. It is presumed the forest fires have something to do with it, for it is sometimes risky to penetrate far into the wooded districts.

Spokane, November 6, at Spokane; College of Idaho, October 19 at La Grande, and probably Pendleton High here this season, are about the only big games that La Grande High faces this year.

Captain Tom Williamson is undecided whether or not he will be able to return to school this fall. His teammates hope to see him report however.

E. M. & F. cars now in the valley are sold; the local agency, the M. & M. company, being at present without a single car for sale.

From Boston to Portland in an Olds is the record attempted by two Bostonians who reached La Grande at noon today. They report fair success all the way and hope to reach Portland in as good order as they have come this far.

ED WALSH HAS HOBBY.

Does Not Care For Victories, but Likes His Strikeouts.

Most every ball player has his hobby or peculiarity, and Ed Walsh, the star heaver of the Chicago Americans, has one that is just about the limit. Walsh doesn't pay much attention to the shut-outs he records, the games he wins, the hits made off him or the bases on balls he passes out, but he does dote on his strikeout record.

Recently Walsh pitched against Cleveland and managed to win, more through his masterly pitching than through the efforts of his teammates. A certain baseball critic happened to meet Walsh after the game and remarked that he was forced to the limit to win. Walsh replied that hard luck was pursuing him this spring and that he should have won all but a few of the games in which he worked but for tough breaks.

"By the way, how many games have you won and lost this year?" the big fellow was asked.

"You've got me there," he replied. "I haven't the slightest idea how I stand now, but I have struck out seventy-two men so far."

The critic was more than surprised to learn that the strikeouts interested Walsh more than any other feature of his work, and he frankly confessed that keeping track of his strikeouts was his one and only hobby in baseball.

LOCAL MARKET GOSSIP.

There is a great scarcity of tomatoes in La Grande. Reports from the Eagle Valley districts say that tomatoes will last but a few days longer for the droughts have prevented maturing. The coal markets were cleaned out of tomatoes long before noon this morning. For the most part the tomatoes are high grade, however.

Egg plants are on the market today. The variety is good and the sales have been brisk throughout the day.

Celery selling at two bunches for a quarter, created a lively business while they lasted this morning. The plants are especially brittle and nice for this time of the year.

Crab apples are among the things that should be ordered now. The local dealers have them on hand and the growers are already peddling them around the city to some extent.
