Bamboo Pens.
Bamboo pens have been used in India for over a hundred years. They are made like the ordinary quill pen and for a few hours' writing are said to be very serviceable.

Smallest Book.
The smallest book in the world was made in Italy. It is the text of a letter written by the inventor of the pendulum clock in 1615. Although it is four-tenths of an inch long and a quarter of an inch wide, it contains 208 pages, each with nine lines and from ninety-five to a hundred letters.

Alaska's Fisheries.
Apart from its fur wealth, the greatest fishing waters in the world are probably those of the Alaska seas and her tidal streams.

Dates and Cream Cheese.
For a date and cream cheese salad wash and examine half a pound of dates. Remove the pits and stuff the cavities with Philadelphia cream cheese or with Neufchâtel. Arrange them on lettuce leaves and serve with mayonnaise dressing. The salad will be at its best if chilled.

The Bearded Vulture.
The largest bird of prey in the old world is the lammergeier, or bearded vulture, which has a wing expanse of nine to ten feet.

Whiting.
All whittings are made from chalk. The more common preparations sometimes contain considerable gritty matter, which scratches highly polished surfaces. These coarse particles may be removed by washing the whiting with water to a paste and then add water until it is very thin. Strain through cheesecloth and let the strained mixture settle. Pour off the water and dry the whiting.

Big Chestnuts.
The chestnuts in Tahiti grow five or six times as large as in this country.

Millet.
Millet was once the daily food of the masses in Europe, but has gradually been dropped and is eaten now mostly by the Slavs beyond the eastern frontiers of Europe and by the negroes in Africa.

An East Indian Custom.
An odd custom prevails in India. A native visitor never takes his departure of his own accord. Etiquette requires the host to dismiss him, which he does in a polite way, not by saying, "Go," but by saying hospitably: "Pray, come again. The sooner we see your face the better we shall be pleased."

PEOPLE of OREGON it is now UP TO YOU
