BOWERMAN MISUNDERSTOOD.

When Jay Bowerman made a short talk the last night at the Union county exposition, at which time he followed Oswald West, who is also running for governor, Mr. Bowerman stated that he was instrumental in getting the bill passed the senate and railroad commissioners. There was West conducts the railroad depart. noise and confusion so that the speak- ment? er could hardly be heard and some understood that he got through the bill providing for the different fairs of the mato

This is a mistake for it was the railroad commission department of which Oswald West is at the head, that Mr. Bowerman helped pass the law to create.

tions, is equipped to impart information that cannot be contradicted. As attorney for the Western Federation of Miners Mr. Darrow had ample opportunity to study the nature of men. If he thought that prohibition was of benefit to man there is nothing that could induce him to oppose it. for anyone who has followed Clarence Darrow's record realizes of all men he is one of the most independent. He knows not how to bend the knee, and no man to him is so great that he should be worshipped. Tomorrow evening the prohibition

Big Fair in Texas.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 15-Gov. Campbell formally opened the twenty-fifth annual Texas fair this morning, the inaugural ceremonies taking place in the handsome new collseum. Following the exercises, the governor and other distinguished visitors were escorted through the other new build ings on the fair grounds, including the industrial arts edifice, the dairy department building and the kennel building. With its many new strucof the leading attorneys of the Un- tures and the unprecedented array ited States, speaks in La Grande on of exhibits, the Texas Fair celebrates the prohibition question.
