Notice of Meeting of the Board of Equalization.

Notice is hereby given that the County Board of Equalization for Union County, Oregon, will attend at the Court House at La Grande, Oregon on Monday, October 18th, 1910, and publicly examine the assessment rolls, correct all errors in valuation, description of qualities of land, lots, or other property, as assessed by the County Assessor and it shall be the duty of all persons interested to appear at the time and place given.

All persons having grievances regarding the 1910 assessment may appear before such board and present complaints containing grounds of complaint. All such affidavits must be presented during the first week of the meeting of the board.

T. A. RINEHART,
Assessor for Union County, Oregon.
Daily Sept. 29 Oct. 17.

If your liver is sluggish and out of tone, and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets tonight before retiring and you will feel all right in the morning.

NATURE'S WARNING.

La Grande People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously.

But nature always warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If there are settlements and sediment. Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time then to use Doan's Kidney Pills.

To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes.

Doan's have done great work in this locality.

Mrs. R. H. Hedrick, 619 Thompson St., Pendleton, Ore., says: "I can speak a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills for they were used in my family with the best of results. The person who took this remedy complained a great deal of a dull pain across the back and was also troubled by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. The use of two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills corrected these difficulties and there has been no return attack."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Postgr-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. Oct 17-19-21

Notice of Street Improvement.

To whom it may concern: Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of La Grande, on the 5th day of August, 1909, creating Improvement District No. 1 and designating Adams avenue as such district, and in pursuance of a resolution adopted by said Common Council on the 28th day of September, 1910, whereby said Council determined and declared its intention to improve all that portion of Adams avenue, in said improvement district as hereinafter described, by laying thereon cement walks, the Council will, ten days after the service of this notice upon the owners of the property affected and benefited by such improvement, order that said above described improvement be made; that boundaries of said district be so improved as follows: All that portion of Adams avenue from the west curb line of 4th street to the east curb line of 1st street. Notice is hereby further given that the council will levy a special assessment on all the property affected and benefited by such improvement for the purpose of paying for such improvement. That the estimated cost of such improvement is the sum of $1800. That the Council will on the 26th day of October, 1910, meet at the Council chamber at the hour of 8 o'clock p. m. to consider said estimated cost, and the levy of said assessment, when a hearing will be granted to any person feeling aggrieved by such assessment.

La Grande, Oregon, Oct. 13, 1910.
CITY COUNCIL OF LA GRANDE, OREGON.

By D. E. COX,
Recorder of the City of La Grande, Oregon.

Rice in the Orient.

Rice is "wet" that grown for the most part in flooded land, or "dry," that raised on uplands. Its growth in those regions where civilization has penetrated least is pathetic. Parts of the east are still covered with virgin forest of tall trees. Underneath all is dark in heavy shade. Creepers twine up hundreds of feet and are all topped off with indescribable orchids, all hunting for air and sunshine. In the thick wood a suitable spot is chosen, for rice they must have or starve. Undergrowth is cut out and staked and hedged around to make a fence for the little rice farm.—Exchange.

Foxglove.

In some places in England the foxglove is regarded with awe as a "witches' flower," the peasants saying that the witches use the bells of the blossoms as thimbles. In most parts, however, the "wee sma' folk that bode no ill" are the beings that "sweetly nestle in the foxglove bells," and in Ireland the plant is called the fairy cap.

A Rival.

"Why do you always say, 'As scarce as hen's teeth?'"
"Because they are about the scarcest things in the world."
"More scarce than men who enjoy bearing about the cleverness of other people's babies?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Women's Lefts.

Miss Bixley—So you have given up advocating woman's rights?
Miss Pascoe—Yes; I now go in for women's lefts.
"Women's lefts? What's that?"
"Widowers."

Our affections are our life. We live by these. They supply our warmth.—Banning.

BILLIKEN PARTY WEDNESDAY

ONE SET OF INVITATIONS SERVES FOR ENTIRE SERIES.

Second Party of Series Will be Held at Elk's Auditorium This Week.

The second of a series of three or four dancing parties under the auspices of the Billikens, a dancing club, composed of about twenty popular young people of the city, will take place next Wednesday evening at the Elk's auditorium. Arrangements for providing the best possible music in the city have been completed and when Wednesday evening comes lovers of informal dancing parties will have another opportunity of being the guests to these hosts and hostesses.

The first party was given about a month ago at which time the winter dancing season was ushered in with considerable success, and so marked was the success of the first party that a large per cent of those holding invitations are expected out again Wednesday night. One set of invitations serve for the entire series.

Harvest Home Festival.

The Social committee of Blue Mt. Grange will hold a Harvest Home Festival on the evening of October 21. The public is invited to attend as a good time is assured.

AN ORIENTAL GARDEN.

It is Not Planted With Flowers, and It Has No Lawns.

A garden does not necessarily mean a collection of flowers arranged more or less symmetrically, with spaces of lawn, shelter of trees and paths hither and thither. There have been gardens that, beyond a terra cotta jar or two holding a rosebush or a flowering almond, have had no green thing within their gates.

I know of an oriental garden in Fez where white garmented Moors come in the cool of the evening to sit and listen to ancient stories that they know by heart, or to music that was old when the pyramids were new, or perhaps to look at a dancing girl or two taking soft steps while they smoke their nargiles, yet that garden is nothing more than a series of arches upholding walls beyond walls, toned a faint, mysterious yellow that is not yellow, but white, and yet not white, but rose. In the middle is a pool of water in a stone basin that looks blue because of the intense sky overhead and that shimmers with gold in reflections from the walls. In the corner stands a mighty jar full of strange scarlet blossoms, and rugs of deep color and intricate pattern lie on the sun warmed flags. There is always the fairy music of dropping water, and wonderful shadows move among the arches.

This place is a garden for all that it is so builded of man. The word court will not do for it.—Century Magazine.

FIGHTING FATIGUE.

Jacking Up the Tired System Without Using Stimulants.

If efforts to keep at work are continued in spite of fatigue the quality of the work is poor and the exhaustion inordinate. Students constantly make this error and do all sorts of things to keep awake to burn the midnight oil when if they would go to bed and rest they could accomplish far more in half the time in the morning with little or no fatigue.

Yet there are times when sleepiness and fatigue must be overcome without resort to stimulants which injure the judgment. The tired physician with a critical case, for instance, must have his wits about him, and it will aid him vastly to go to an open window every fifteen or thirty minutes to take a dozen or two deep inspirations of cold air. His exhaustion in the end will be great, but he can make it up later.

As a matter of fact, surgeons and others whose work requires the keenest perceptions instinctively choose the early morning for their best efforts, reserving the afternoon for "low pressure" tasks or recreation. That is, it is far better to so live that we do not need the stimulus of these extraordinary methods of respiration.—American Medicine.

Startling Encouragement.

"Was Amelia's father encouraging when you went to him to ask him for her hand?"

"Not very. He asked me to put the proposal in writing, so I couldn't back out, as all the others did."
