

FINER GRADE OF SUGAR MADE

PRODUCT OF FACTORY HERE IS MUCH IMPROVED.

Plenty of Sunshine and Better Method of Making Sugar is Responsible.

Since the making of beet sugar has commenced the management has found that the grade of sugar being manufactured this season is far ahead in quality to anything ever produced here before. Plenty of sunshine and a revised formula of making the sugar have combined to make a rare good quality of sugar. It is finer grained and whiter too than any product of the local factory has ever been.

Field Manager Bramwell is hoping for a continuance of good weather that all the beets may be pulled and hauled to the factory.

OLDFIELD VS. JOHNSON.

The White Speed Wizard and Black Pugilist Will Race.

New York, Oct. 20.—Unless Doctor Oldfield or his manager, Bill Pickens, backs down at the last minute, Jack Johnson, the heavyweight pugilist, will today have the chance he has long craved to show his skill and nerve in an automobile race against one of the leaders in the game. The race will be held at the Sheepshead Bay race track and will be witnessed by a large crowd, including a big contingent of the heavyweight pugilist's colored admirers.

Johnson has been anxious to show his ability as an automobile driver for some time, and ever since the Reno affair, he has been repeatedly challenging Oldfield and other daredevil drivers for a race. Oldfield refused for a time, looking upon Johnson's challenges as a press-agent dodge, but recently he was convinced of the big negro's sincerity and consented to a match.

As a result of his match with Johnson, the contest board of the American Automobile Association has indefinitely suspended Oldfield. The latter's manager, Pickens asserted that he cared nothing for that, as he was tired of paying sanction fees, and intimated a purpose of forming an outlaw automobile racing association.

As matters now stand, there appears to be trouble ahead for Oldfield, whether he wins or loses his race with Johnson. It is alleged on good authority that if Oldfield persists in racing with the colored man, he will be permanently disqualified by the American Automobile Association, and any track which permits his appearance will be declared an outlaw track. Other motorists will in future be barred from racing on any such track under penalty of disqualification.

Jack Johnson, who was refused a license to race by the contest board, asserts that he will maintain his alleged rights by an appeal to the courts if necessary.

BUSINESS MEN OF UNION HELD BANQUET

ity and is starting on a search for a home, the speaker went over the ground that all are familiar with who have talked to homeseekers. His idea is to expand the work of the club and keep constantly at it.

In speaking of "Boosting Towns", which was the subject for H. J. Lucas, the speaker got right down to business and told the story of prosperity that has marked many of the advanced communities where he has resided. He took the stand that the Grande Ronde valley has as much or more to offer any homeseeker as any place in the whole nation, but the point in question is how to approach and reach the people with this information. His ideas were good and well put.

One of the frankest speeches of the evening was that delivered by C. W. Wright on "Civic Improvement." He did not use any soft language to describe what Union needed but came out straight from the shoulder and urged a few necessities. While he mentioned several large undertakings he also mentioned many smaller things which could be done by half a dozen citizens. One might say that his speech boiled down meant that Union should wash her face, take a bath and get a hair cut, and everyone seemed to agree with him.

Probably the most unique number on the program, and one that was entirely new to most of the guests, was the speech of G. S. Levy. He had been assigned the Stock Show exhibit. When called upon by the toastmaster Mr. Levy turned to a large phonograph in the corner of the banquet hall and pressed a button. The huge machine began reeling off a speech regarding Grande Ronde live stock, told of the stock show's history and demanded strong and loyal support for the effort next year. The records had been prepared in advance by Mr. Levy delivering the speech into the machine. It made a decided hit with the crowd assembled.

A. J. Goodbrod, whom Col. Ivanhoe says would leave heaven to attend a meeting of the Union commercial club, spoke on Oregon fruit in the east. He has recently returned from a trip to Atlantic City, N. J., where he attended the Grand Army encampment and during that visit he spread a little of great Oregon gospel about fruit, climate, pretty babies and other things. His story of surprise among Easterners when he pulled a few 29 ounce apples on them was amusing and the old gentleman insisted that larger fruit than that was grown in this country. One point he brought out should have deliberate consideration. He said the prune crop was rotting on the ground in the Grande Ronde valley because help could not be obtained to care for it, and he urged that some measure be adopted whereby school children could be dismissed for a few days when a perishable fruit crop was ripe to help save the crop. Mr. Goodbrod is a friend of education and a lover of children but he can see nothing wrong in saving everything nature has bestowed upon this valley.

R. M. Wright handled the subject of "Work for Union" in a way that was commendable. His plea for patriotism and love of the home city was earnest and sincere and it went with a response that indicated his remarks went home to every man in attendance.

Mr. Cook, the undertaker, insisted in a few well delivered remarks that many things needed burying around Union, chief of which was the hatchet. He enumerated a few issues and conditions that should be buried at once and assured his audience that if entrusted to him there would be no embalming done for the sooner the corpse decomposed the better it would be for the city.

Universal regret was expressed at the absence of Fred B. Currey, the Hot Lake publicity man, who was detained at the last moment and was unable to fill his place on the program. Union, like La Grande, is loyal to the "House of Efficiency" at Hot Lake and the banqueters were anxious to hear something of the publicity work going on there for it aids every part of the valley and Union is aware of that fact.

Before closing the evening's program Toastmaster Davis called on Bill Dennis, of the Observer, who made a short talk on the attitude of La Grande toward Union and a few other things.

William Vogel, president of the club, reviewed its work and told of the campaign that was being planned for the coming year.

Those in attendance at this splendid meeting from La Grande were Dr. Biggers, Col. Ivanhoe, I. R. Snook, H. D. Bruce, J. M. Spence and Bruce Dennis. The La Grande party left for home immediately after the banquet in Dr. Biggers' new Franklin car and only a few minutes were required to cancel the distance between Union and La Grande.

Waterways Meeting.

Beaumont, Texas, Oct. 20.—Advocates of a gulf intercostal canal are here in force today at the meeting of the Texas and Louisiana Inland waterways Association. The session is the first to be held by the waterways boomers in this city since the completion of the Sabine-Nechos canal, which is an integral part of the proposed intercostal canal along the gulf coast of Texas and Louisiana. Practical plans for pushing the project will be considered during the convention, which will continue through tomorrow. The visitors will be handsomely entertained by the Chamber of Commerce.

President Wilson Resigns.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 20.—President Woodrow Wilson of Princeton University, Democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey today offered his resignation as head of the great educational institution to the board of trustees. Whether the board, which is in session today, will accept the resignation, is doubtful. They value highly President Wilson's services, and are reluctant to part with him. It is quite probable that the resignation will be held in abeyance until after Nov. 8 next, so that if Dr. Wilson falls of election as governor he may return to his old post. The distinguished educator is now in the midst of a spirited campaign, and devotes practically his entire time to his political interests.

Many names have been suggested as possible successors to Dr. Wilson, in case the latter is elected governor. Prof. Andrew F. West, dean of the graduate school, is a favorite with many Princeton men. Former Mayor McClellan of New York, Dean Henry Burchard Fine, President John Finley of the College of the City of New York and President Harry Garfield of Williams college, son of President Garfield are among others prominently mentioned.

In some quarters the retirement of President Wilson is looked upon as a solution of the strife of last year regarding his graduate school policies. As governor of New Jersey, however, he would remain ex-officio president of the Princeton board of trustees, and would be able to exercise a great deal of influence over the conduct of the institution.
