YOUNG FUGITIVE ARRESTED

ENTERPRISE OFFICIAL HAS A ROUNDUP WITH SMALL BOY.

Youngster from Idaho Proves to Have Gift of Aged Criminal.

Elmer Small, late of Caldwell, Ida., has been keeping the officers hereabouts quite busy lately. He is an undersized, 12 year old boy, but active as a ferret when it comes to getting away. He has made three escapes within a week and the Idaho sheriff will be lucky to get him back home, Thursday, says the Enterprise News Record.

Elmer broke into a laundry, took what change there was in the till, and smashed an adding machine under the deluded notion that it was a cash register. For all this he was sentenced to the reform school. The sheriff left him at his parents' home until he was ready to take him to the school, but Elmer and his sister, Elsie disappeared one night.

Word was sent to Sheriff Marvin and the lad was found at Wallowa going to school, while Elsie was working in a hotel. The boy was brought to Enterprise Saturday by N. O. Crofut. He was so lithe and afraid that Charlie Giovannoni, the court house janitor, slept with him that night in the jail. About 3:15 a. m. Charlie awoke, found his bedmate gone and he locked in. The lad had taken the keys from Charlie's clothes about a quarter of an hour before, slipped out and locked the door. Charlie raised a big hullabaloo, hollowing and shooting off his revolver, and was finally released.

Sheriff Marvin went to Wallowa the next morning in an auto and reached there just as Elmer, footsore and weary, turned up Main street from the railroad track, down which he had tramped from Enterprise. Marvin started with the lad on the afternoon train Monday, but the train was hardly out of Wallowa before Elmer made a pretense of wanting a drink, then dashed out of the door and off the train. Marvin was right after him, and captured him after a short chase. He walked him to Lostine and came in a rig the west of the way.

The Ada county sheriff will come for Elmer today.
