LA GRANDE EVENING OBSERVER.

THEATRE NEARS COMPLETION

BRICKWORK ON THE STRUCTURE COMPLETED TODAY.

Interior Finishing Will be Commenced Next Monday Morning.

Brickwork on the new Gardinier theatre building on Adams avenue was completed today and other contractors are hurrying the wood work. The roof will be completed tomorrow and will then give a fire proof covering to the building. A composition of asbestos covers the roofing which prevents fire from sparks.

The interior of the building will be hurried to completion next week.

As the building nears completion it becomes evident that Mr. Gardinier's assertion that his theatre would be one of the most modern-built of any in the country was not a mis statement. Every convenience that goes with the big theatre houses will be included in the makeup of the vaudeville house.

North Dakota Teachers.

Bismark, N. D., Oct. 21—One of the most interesting and largely attended gatherings of teachers ever held in the state, the annual session of the North Dakota Educational association, will close today. Many educators of prominence are on the program for the final session.
