TEACHERS CAN'T BE SUPPLIED

UNIVERSITY OF EUGENE UNABLE TO FILL DEMANDS.

Science Teachers are Sought for More Frequently Than Others Are.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The University of Oregon is unable to supply the demand for high school teachers. Every year the demand for University graduates to hold responsible positions in the high schools of the state far exceeds the supply.

The greatest demand is for science teachers and high school principals. Especially desirable are graduates who have had practical experience. For this reason, those who have taught before entering the university have a great advantage.

Thirty-two of last year's graduates have stepped directly into important positions and still the need is not supplied.

The school of education under Dr. H. L. Stinson is devoted to the training of high school teachers alone, and the teacher's bureau placed the graduates of that department in schools over the state.

It you feel is slipping and out of tone, take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets tonight before retiring and feel all right in the morning.

North Dakota Teachers.
 Bismark, N. D., Oct. 21.—One of the most interesting and largely attended gatherings of teachers ever held in the state, the annual session of the North Dakota Educational association, will close today. Many educators of prominence are on the program for the final session.

When the digestion is all right, the action of the bowels regular, there is a natural craving and relish for food. When this is lacking you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They strengthen the digestive organs, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels.

The Long Spoon.
 "Tomkyns" recently heard the expression "If you sup with the devil you will need a long spoon." "Though I never heard it before," he says, "it is evidently fairly well known, and what I should like to know is, What does it mean, and where does it come from?"

It means that if you are going to sit down to a meal with his Satanic majesty you will need a long spoon to avoid the necessity of getting too near the old gentleman and, in its general sense, of course, it implies that if you have dealings with a dangerous or notorious person it behooves you to use great caution. It comes from one of the "Inghelshy Legends," and the quotation reads: "Who suppes with the Deville sholde have a long spoone."

A Queer Diagnosis.
 A celebrated Dublin physician was Sir Dominic Corrigan, who was as much famed for his brusqueness toward patients as for his skill. In the course of some reminiscences William Charles Scully told a story of the doctor which is quite well worth quoting. "I was taken to see him," says the writer, "several times, but he always treated me with the utmost kindness. However, a highly respectable maiden aunt of mine had a different experience. She went to consult him. After sound'ing her—none too gently—and asking a few questions he gave a grant and reasses into science. Then after a short pause of meditation he said, 'Well, ma'am, it's one of two things—either you drink or else you sit with your back to the fire.'"

Anne Adams to be washmaid at Lady day. She went away the 29th of June for being wanton and careless. She lost five pairs of sheets and five pillowbeers, for which my wife made her pay £1.—Diary of Sir Richard Newdigate.

Retribution.
 Young Father (in the future)—Great snakes! 'Can't you do something to quiet that baby? Its eternal squalling drives me frantic. Young Mother (calmly to servant)—Marie, bring in my husband's mother's phonograph and put in the cylinder "At Ten Months." I want him to hear how his voice sounded when he was young.

Squaring Himself.
 Mrs. Henpecke—What do you mean, sir, by telling Mrs. Torker's husband you never ask my advice about anything? Henpecke—Well, Maria, I don't. You don't wait to be asked.

Showing the Way.
 Friend (to guide)—Why does your wife always go round with the parties that you take over the castle? Guide—She always gives me a tip at the end so as to induce the others to follow suit.—London Answers.
