WINTER COURSE AT O. A. C.

TERM WILL LAST SIX WEEKS AND COMMENCES FEB. 13.

Farm Subjects Will be Handled by O. A. C. During Short Course.

Corvallis, Ore., Oct. 26 (Special)—The winter short course at the Oregon Agricultural college will commence January 3, continuing for a period of six weeks and will be followed immediately by a special course commencing February 13 and extending over a period of one week which will be known as Farmers' Week. This announcement has just been made by the chairman of the course committee.

The work will cover a six weeks' course in agronomy, animal husbandry, poultry husbandry, horticulture, dairying, domestic science and art, mechanical arts and forestry. Under these various heads the most practical work that can possibly be prepared will be offered to the short course students. The work is designed to meet the requirements of men and women, old and young.

The college has added greatly to the equipment and building space which will be available for this work. The new agricultural building has been completed and is splendidly equipped with laboratories and recitation rooms. The new green house are also completed and are available for the work in floriculture. New laboratories are also being equipped in the old agricultural building and by the time the short course commences everything will be in splendid condition. A number of new instructors have also been added to the staff and will give special attention to this work.

The courses which will be offered have been carefully prepared so as to meet the immediate requirements of the men and women who are actually carrying on the agricultural work throughout the state. The men will be taught the advantages of the latest scientific discoveries in the field of agronomy, dairying, poultry husbandry, fruit growing and stock raising. The women will be taught many valuable lessons in sewing, cooking and home sanitation. The work is such that will be of great value to the young men and women and to the mature farmer and housewife.

Last year the students who were in attendance at this course varied in age from 16 to 65 years, and among those who expressed themselves as having derived the greatest benefit from the work, were older and more experienced farmers.

The committee now in charge of the work is arranging for the accommodation of these men and women and will probably secure special rates from the railroad companies. A complete circular describing the work and the expenses and accommodations will be issued about the first of December.

No entrance examinations or other educational tests will be required and the only expenses will be those for board and room and a small registration fee for laboratories. There will be no fees for the special Farmer's Week course.

Notice to Contractors.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Council of the City of La Grande, Oregon, for the construction of 11,986 Sq. yds. of bitulithic pavement on Fourth street between Adams avenue and O. avenue, together with excavation, curbing and drainage, the same to be constructed according to the plans, specifications and estimates on file in this office. ### A Book Worth Reading.

A little book showing the human appendix and telling how appendicitis is caused and how you can easily prevent it, is offered free for a short time by A. T. Hill.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take.
