SCHOOL DAYS

Your own little boy, as well as his bigger brother, will be STYLISHLY, SERVICEABLY and COMFORTABLY dressed in one of our WANDESS knickerbocker suits or overcoats.

Seldom has such variety of clever styles and fabrics been originated as we are showing this season.

WANDESS clothes are made in New York where the best fashions come from. They are cut full size, goods are thoroughly shrunk and tested before being made up. Every wear-exposed part and seam is taped or reinforced; THEY WILL NOT RIP.

The manufacturers, confident of the merit of their goods, authorize us to replace any garment bearing the WANDESS label and not giving reasonable satisfaction. . . .

Best of all, the difference in price between these really good clothes and ordinary garments is so trifling, that you will be delighted.

Look for the WANDESS label on the inside pocket of the coat.

Railroad News.

W. M. Jackie is the name of the new assistant superintendent of the O. R. & N. having been named to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of H. J. Lonergan. His position corresponds to that formerly known as division engineer. Lonergan has been assistant superintendent for more than a year, having succeeded Stotler who followed Berkeley, now with the Oregon & Washington.

An accident which is extremely uncommon in railroading occurred near Biggs Tuesday night. A freight train going west, while rounding a curve, lost the first car behind the engine without the remainder of the train being disturbed. The car left the track on a short curve, breaking away from the tender and the car back of it, and rolled down the bank into the river without discommoding any of the rest of the train. Old railroad men say they have heard of such happenings, but they have never seen such a stunt.—Portland Journal.
