FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRY WORK

If you are not a customer of Cherry's New Laundry we urge you to give us a trial. We guarantee all work to be satisfactory and will re-laundry any article not so found or cheerfully refund your money.

We want to build up a home laundry employing American labor, which will be a credit to the town. We merely ask a chance to prove that we can satisfy you. Can't you grant that much?

All work called for and promptly delivered.

There is enough laundry work in La Grande to keep a good sized force busy and keep the money at home. Are you a booster for home industry?

We are now comfortably housed in our new building, just a few steps from Fir st. We are safe from dust and dirt and are easily found if you want to carry a bundle down town. But we'll gladly call in our wagon.

Six Little Girls who Sing and Dance in "the Cow and the Moon." Steward's Opera House, Tuesday, Nov. 1st.

Musical extravaganzas, kladescopic pictures, rapid change of scenery, gorgeous costumes and plenty of them, wondrous fun and color, music and mirth seem to be what the theatre going public want. Chas. A. Sellon, who has appeared here in that favorite musical extravaganza, "The Cat and the Fiddle" seems to have gauged the public fancy, and this season is presenting a brand new entertainment of this sort and will be seen at the Stewart on Tuesday, November 1. It has the title of "the Cow and the Moon," most peculiar but at once interesting. It deals with earth beings and immortals from the Moon, and Molly, the vaulting cow who nimbly leaps over the Moon is sure to be great fun for the kiddies as well as the older folk. Mr. Sellon will be seen as happy a continuation of the character he played "The Cat and the Fiddle" and he will be surrounded by a cast of forty or more together with a large and capable chorus.

HIRED APPLAUSE.

The Great Rachel Made the Clique Earn Its Money.

Speaking of applause in theaters, a theatrical man relates the following concerning the great actress Rachel:

"It seems that upon a certain opening night Rachel received enthusiastic applause, but on the second night it was so noticeably slim that the actress felt deeply grieved and bitterly complained that the clique was not doing its duty. The leader of the hired 'applause makers' on hearing of her displeasure wrote her a letter in which he endeavored to excuse himself from any blame.

"Mademoiselle—I cannot remain under the obloquy of a reproach from such lips as yours," he began. "The following is an authentic statement of what really took place: At the first representation I led the attack in person not less than thirty-three times. We had three acclamations, four hilarities, two thrilling movements, four renewals of applause and two indefinite explosions. In fact, to such an extent did we carry our applause that the occupants of the stalls were scandalized and cried out a la porte!

"My men were positively exhausted with fatigue and even intimidated to me that they could not again go through such an evening. Seeing such to be the case, I applied for the manuscript, and after having profoundly studied the piece I was obliged to make up my mind for the second representation to certain curtailments in the service of my men."

"The writer thus goes on at some length to assure the actress he will try to make future amends and requests her to believe in his profound admiration."—Exchange.

Russian Peasant Weddings.

A peasant wedding in Russia means a festival for the whole village and often for the young people from neighboring villages as well. Weeks before the eventful day the young girls assemble at the home of the bride to help her sew. The bridegroom comes with his men friends to treat them to nuts and sweets. Appropriate songs are sung, and the bridegroom's generosity is put to the test. One of the girls holds out to him a plate, and if he puts down a silver coin they sing him a song full of compliments, but if he gives copper and is known to be able to afford more mockery follows. The whole village is invited to the marriage ceremony, which is performed with all the ancient superstitious rites and solemnities.

Retribution.

"You are charged with allowing your family only 15 cents a day for sustenance."

"That's all I do allow, your honor, and it is enough."

"Enough to feed a wife and six children?"

"So I contend."

"Five hundred dollars for contempt. Nobody can call this court a fool and get away with it."—Philadelphia Ledger.
