HEAVY LOSSES BY SUDDEN FIRE

PIERCE AND KIDDLE BROTHERS LOSE HEAVILY.

Twenty-Three Thousand Dollars Said to be Loss Sustained.

Further details of the fire in the warehouse of the Pierce siding yesterday afternoon, which was briefly mentioned in The Observer, shows that Walter M. Pierce and Kiddle Brothers sustained a loss of $23,000 and over and that there was no insurance on any of the grain.

The warehouse was ignited by a burning box car attached to the logging train which the incoming logging train crew attempted to bring to Island City. The engine on the train is said to be such as casts sparks indiscriminately and fires have been repeated occurrences. The box car caught fire at Alicel and when it passed the warehouse at the Pierce siding, the flames were leaping fifteen feet in the air, according to employes on the Pierce ranch. They realized that the warehouse was in danger and hurried toward the place but just as soon as the fire train had passed the warehouse was aflame and practically beyond control in a moment's time. The loss was complete and without insurance. Mr. Pierce claims the fire was the result of gross neglect on the part of the O. R. & N. and intends to seek damage money.

The engine ignited several fires between the Pierce siding and Island City though none of them were of consequence, but it demonstrates, says Mr. Pierce, that the engine was a menace to the community.

The wheat and oats were of high grade and the timothy hay was the very best Mr. Pierce grows.

The Various Losses.

5,000 bushels of wheat owned by Kiddle Brothers.

5,000 bushels of wheat owned by Walter Pierce.

Mr. Pierce also had stored in the building 15,000 bushels of oats and 170 tons of fine Eastern Oregon timothy hay which has been bringing him $20 per ton.

Loss to building $3,200.
Total loss sustained over $23,000.

Spokane is Incensed.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 3 (Special)—Protests against the decision of the census department withholding the Spokane figures until the Tacoma case has been settled are being sent to Washington, D. C., by business and professional interests in this city. The Spokane chamber of commerce also has taken up the matter, the officers regarding the decision as unjust one in view of the fact that W. A. McKenzie, inspector of census, gave out the information that no fraud had been attempted in Spokane. Charles M. Fassett, president of the organization, announced today that a formal protest will be filed by the chamber of commerce, adding: "Following the statement by Mr. McKenzie that our figures are substantially correct I can see no reason why we should be held up. We believe we have a right to know and we shall insist that Spokane be informed of its census returns without being held up until the Tacoma difficulty has been settled. We have a right to know and to protect our interest the same as any city in the country, and, satisfied that our figures are correct we shall insist upon that right."

Yaw Pleases Seattle.

Seattle proved itself a real music-loving city, when twenty-four hours after Mme. Galski's appearance a second large and brilliant audience filled the Moore theatre to listen to Ellen Beach Yaw, coloratura soprano, who is touring the west and will visit La Grande says the Seattle, P. I.

Miss Yaw sang in splendid voice, and both Mrs. Mary Newman, pianist, and Jay Plowe, solo flutist, were at their best. The result was a programme to delight the most exacting.

A pleasant feature of the program was the bond of sympathy between the singer and the audience. Miss Yaw's dramatic interpretation found ready echo in the emotions of her auditors and her lighter touches met instant response in smiles and laughter as spontaneous as the art which caused them.

One of the most popular numbers of the programme was Miss Yaw's own composition, "Love's Lament," an appealing tone picture in minor key. Again in Haydn's "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair," Miss Yaw's wonderful voice especially appealed. The mad scene from "Lucia" gave her especial opportunity to display her marvelous range.

Mr. Plowe shared the honors with Miss Yaw. In a concertino of Chamblade, a serenade of Kohler's and a valse of Chopin's, his solo numbers, he called forth enthusiastic applause, as did his encores.

Mrs. Newman, who played a larghetto of Kuhlau's with a flute obligato by Mr. Plowe, was accorded a very hearty reception.

Georgia Clubwomen.

Athens, Ga., Nov. 2—This center of Georgia culture is today the gathering place of some of the leading women of the south, come to attend the annual meeting of the state Federation of Women's Clubs. The sessions will continue through three days and will be held in the chapel of the Lucy Cobb Institute. The executive board meets this afternoon and a reception to the distinguished visitors will be held this evening. Mrs. P. N. Moore, the national president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the principal speaker and guest of honor. More than a score of new clubs have been organized in Georgia during the last year, bringing the number of local organizations affiliated with the state federation almost to the hundred mark.
