TEAM EXCELS IN TRICKS

tors. They opened the game with a variety of the open play that dazzled the Spokane boys, who were at a loss to solve it, and 14 minutes of the first quarter had elapsed before Durham was enabled to push the ball over the goal line and annex a marker by the kick.

Interest High Throughout.

And it is safe to say, that the final score does not indicate that spectators' interest in the game, which is not unusually marked in a one-sided score. If an exemplification of the new rules and the open play were needed in Spokane the third game of the local high school eleven furnished plenty of it yesterday and forward passes, trick plays, fake plays, kicks fadeaway and shoestring plays furnished a menage that kept the specgrayness of the skies or the bite of grayness of the skie sor the bite of the air.

Shiel celebrated his return to the eleven, after being injured early in the first game of the season, by an afternoon of splendid play. Durham ran the team and negotiated some beautiful runs. His toe failed in converting touchdowns into goals, but once, that when the ball struck the upright an inch to the side, O'Connor, Edris, Rouse, Watson, Thompson and Adams contributed spectacular features, while the other men showed hard play that was meritorious.

La Grande Scores Once.

Garrity, Bolton, Rice, Irwin and Lottes starred for the visitors and figured in the open play. Bohnenkamp folded his arms around a block kick that went bad and pushed his way out of the mass in the center of the field, dodged two opponents and raced ahead of Durham with a clear lead to the goal.

The grandstand and side lines greeted the score with an unusual demonstration, especially for an opposing team ,and the "coeds" flaunted their colors at the visitors until they were sure it was some pleasure to lose. Even the large detail of boy scouts on duty at the ground clapped their heels together and leaning on their wooden swords and lances placed another quality on their scroll of pledges which they would strive to emulate to win favor in the eyes of their fair ladies.

Scores Faster at Finish.

Although the style of play did not give a heavy team a direct advantage yet the weight of the Spokane boys soon began to tell on the lighter men from the south and touchdowns were much easier as darkness was falling in the last minutes of play. Two of the visitors were taken from the game because of injuries, but were not considered seriously hurt.

Notes of the Game.

When the game started at 2.35 the La Grande boys rushed the ball down the length of the field, only to lose it, and after regaining it, started another march which made the Spokane rooters feel that another defeat was about to come.

"If our boys had presented the variety of attack that they have displayed in the game today, I feel that we would have won our other two games," said Coach Kennedy during the progress of the game yesterday. "The presence of Shiel also would have made a great difference in the other results."

Both teams were strong in the kicking and about evenly matched, Bolton for the visitors, averaged 35 yards and Durham and Watson booted equally well. One of Watson's kicks went over 40 yards.

Coach Carruth of the Oregon team said after the game: "I have nothing to kick about. We were beaten by a better team and I think the weight finally told. Our men were worn out."

The local high school lost $250 on the game yesterday. The expenses of the visitors were $250 for the long trip and the crowd was very small because of the counter attraction of the Gangaza-Montana game.

There was but one penalty given during the game and it went against La Grande for interfering in a forward pass. There was no wrangling and very little time out for hurts. The spectators got as solid return for their money as in a pint of oysters under the pure food law.
