In making a price on prescriptions we charge a definite percentage above cost, just as we do on drugs, or sundries. Prescription prices are therefore always fair and quite sure to average much less than those asked elsewhere. You receive also superior service, because we employ in this department none but registered pharmacists of known ability—and because our drugs are kept fresh by active selling. Wright Drug Co. A Cold Settled in His Kidneys.

This was the experience of Mr. J. T. Pendleton, Effingham, Ill. "My kidneys and bladder bothered me for some time. Had severe backache, felt all tired out, saw specks floating before my eyes, and my bladder caused me much misery. Finally I caught cold, that settled in my kidneys and I was pretty sick. At that time Foley Kidney Pills were suggested, and I commenced taking them. A few weeks treatment put me back on my feet, stopped the backache and dispelled the bladder misery. The tired feeling left me and my vision cleared. Since then I have recommended Foley Kidney Pills to many of my friends."—Hill's Drug Store.

OPENING NIGHT POPULAR.

Packed House Hears "Grey Dove" by Winston Company Last Night.

Steward's opera house was filled to overflowing last evening in honor of Miss Winston's initial appearance in La Grande. Miss Winston is certainly all the press agent claimed for her as an actress and the support much better than any repertoire company ever in this city.

Mr. C. J. Lionel as the young spendthrift cause many hearty laughs, playing a rather difficult part in a highly satisfactory manner. His friend, Mr. W. S. Van Dyke, who assists him into as well as out of trouble was excellent not only in his acting but is exceedingly good to look upon. Mr. Ingersoll had a peculiar talkless part from which he made much comedy. Miss Loucks as the tongue-swung-in-the-middle spouse played her part with credit, as did Miss Robeson and Miss Grey. In fact there was not a weak member in the cast, each acquitting him or herself in a most friendmaking style.

Tonight "The Mansion of Aching Hearts" a meritorious drama will be the vehicle.

The Yaw Attraction.

"The price a girl pays for greatness—do you realize what it is?" said Ellen Beach Yaw recently to an enthusiastic young student who was smothering her with a torrent of eager questions about study and the life a young singer should lead.

"I know that it is customary for all prima-donnas to offer advice on voice production, repertoire, the selection of a teacher, the conduct of the voice, the care of the body—anyone of a hundred things connected with an artist's career," continued Miss Yaw. "But I am going to do something different. I am going to ask that girl if she knows the price she is paying.

"We have too many failures in the arts. We have too many fine American girls, glorious with budding promise, slipping down into the paths of mediocrity, and finally disappearing forever in the abyss of obscurity.

"I think it is because they do not

"You want to become great, do you? Well;

"You will forever forswear even the ordinary pleasures of life.

"There can be no more late hours.

"You will have to put an end to late suppers.

"You must toll the knell of surfeiting leisure, such as chocolate-munching and novel-reading, in a kimona.

"You must take regular physical exercise. You must eschew all alcoholics, and as well the festive ice-cream soda. You must concentrate on study and work, work and study.

"You must think music, eat music, sleep music, rest in music. After years of this sort of life—you may become great. You may not. That is always the chance you take—it will depend on you."—At the Steward. September 17.

SAVINGS BANKS

A PROBLEM

MANY IMPORTANT PHASES WORKED OUT.

Officials Tave Several Knotty Problems to Solve at Once.

Washington, Nov. 8 (Special)—While the locations of the first postal savings banks, one in each state and territory, have been chosen, and it is probable that the banks will be opened at the beginning of 1911, much work remains to be done in the development of the system, according to one of the trustees.

A problem that is taxing the trustees and the solution of which is awaited with great interest by bankers, concerns the deposit of postal funds in banks. The law provides that 65 per cent of the funds "shall be deposited in solvent banks, whether organized under national or state laws, being subject to national or state supervision and examinations." The word "banks" includes savings banks and trust companies.

The solvency of national banks will probably be determined by the Comptroller of the Currency, who has charge of the National Bank Examiners. The best method for ascertaining the condition of other banks has not been determined. One play suggested provides for the co-operation of the comptroller or some other governmental agency with the state banking departments.

There are many bankers who are anxious that the method for determining the question of solvency shall be through and guarded to protect impartially the interests of all banks. Unless that is done they fear that some future board of trustees may possibly make the power to decide as to solvency, a basis of favoritism in the distribution of postal bank funds.
