WORLD-FAMED VOICE COMING.

The voice of Ellen Beach Yaw, which certain master-critics have proclaimed the most unusual and musical soprano since Jenny Lind, will be heard in the rendition of a great programme at Steward's Opera House, Thursday evening, November 17th.

Miss Yaw is inaugurating, under splendid auspices, a "grand tour" of North America and the local date is made possible by a fortuitous combination of circumstances.

Her programme is of exceptional sort, including as it does, the widest range of selections, showing more versatility and command of varied schools than is possessed by any other soprano before the public today.

Miss Yaw's wonderful exposition of the beauties of the old-time English and American songs first brought her to the attention of the critical. She then mastered—they say more completely than any other prima-donna—the beautiful intricacies of the old Italian school, and now stands an acknowledged mistress, besides, of the widely divergent French and German schools.

She will have the assistance of a flute soloist of international renown, Jay Plowe, late of the Royal Opera House orchestra of Berlin. In these days when every prima-donna is supported either by a songster of some sort, a violinist or a cellist, it is indeed a delightful change to find a great player of that beautiful but seldom-mastered instrument, the flute.

Mrs. Mary Newman, solo pianist and accompanist, is among the foremost of her class, and is declared by Miss Yaw the most resultful and sympathetic player she has ever had in her company.

Franklin Would Have Been Amazed

If his vision could have extended far enough into the haze of evolution to foresee the ultimate triumph of incandescent electric lighting—the GENERAL ELECTRIC MADZA LAMP.

The sage old philosopher saw his kite during a thunder storm, and by means of a key attracted and discovered electricity, but evolution decreed that modern inventive genius should discover an incandescent lamp that is revolutionizing artificial light.

THE GENERAL ELECTRIC MADZA LAMP gives nearly three times the light of the ordinary carbon incandescent—and costs no more to operate. In addition to this it gives light of a vastly superior quality—a clear white light like the sun's rays.

Everywhere people are having their houses wired for electric light, since the invention of the GENERAL ELECTRIC MADZA LAMP. It has made electricity as cheap as it is convenient. Come in for a moment today and let us prove to your entire satisfaction that there is no longer a possible excuse for you to be without the greatest of all household conveniences—electric light.
