Russian Sable.

The Russian sable, derived from the martens, while not so valuable as the ermine, is costly enough to prevent its becoming common, some skins being valued as high as $5,000 each. They range in size from fifteen to twenty inches in length and five to eight inches in breadth.

your eye-sight to those without experience, without proper equipment, and of whose competence you have no

HONEST WORK calls for experience, skill, knowledge of the power of the eye, knowledge of the diseases of the eye, knowledge of every muscle connected with the sight, knowledge of the physique of persons whose eyes are examined. This knowledge cannot be acquired in a few months but by hard study and years and years of practical experience.

Over 29 years of practical experience in FITTING GLASSES, the completeness of our equipment, the im-

Society

Co-operation between the Observer and in regard to supplying social news is necessary to the very best results. The Observer will gladly receive social news of the week up until Friday, and for events occurring on Friday evening up until 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Mutual benefits will be derived and the Saturday evening social page in the Observer will be even more popular than it is now.

One of the highest compliments that can be paid a lodge was the treat accorded Hope Chapter No. 13, E. O.
S. at the inspection of the chapter by grand lodge officials last Wednesday night when the drill team of the local lodge was invited to attend the grand chapter in Portland next June and put on the floral drill, which, officials of the state lodge say, cannot be approached by any other team in the way in which La Grande's can. It was an important evening for the Eastern Star members. At the conclusion of the inspection which included the splendid exemplification of all initiatory and fancy drill work, an elaborate banquet was served in honor of the grand chapter officers in attendance.

Mrs. F. C. Schilke is in charge of the drill team and the members of it declare she is directly responsible for the honor falling to La Grande, one among 99 other chapters, as she outlined the floral drill and has been the chief commandant of the team since it was organized.

The invitation to put on the floral drill in Portland was promptly accepted and if such a thing is possible, additional finishing touches will be put on the efficiency of the team. The entire team will make the trip and the state chapters will see something which grand officers say is not witnessed anywhere else in the state.
The lodge was highly complimented by the grand worthy matron for its excellent financial and social standing.

The banquet was an elaborate affair. The guests of honor were Grand Worthy Matron, Mrs. Jennie Rinehart; Grand associate matron, Mrs.
Pauline Moore Riley of Baker City, and Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp, Grand Ruth, of this city. The banquet was arranged and served in splendid fashion by sections 2 and 3 of the social department. The event was easily the biggest fraternal function of the fall months, and was particularly important in that the invitation to the grand chapter was extended during the event.

Last Tuesday afternoon was an important one in musical circles. The Tuesday Musicales conducted a public program and the numbers were very interesting throughout. The program consisted of the following numbers, with Mrs. Upton as leader: Lives of Dudley Buck and Arthur Foote—Mrs. E. Pollock.
O Loving Heart, Trust On—Gottschalk
—Miss Oma Richardson.
The Music of the North American Indians—Mrs. Robt. Newlin.
Reading Selected
Miss Katherine Mitchell.
Down by the Mill Dudley Buck Miss Etta Foley.
Slave Songs
Mrs. E. C. Moore.
Humoresque Dvorak
Mrs. Eva Carlock.

Miss Ellen Stafford and Mr. Price
L. Todd were married by the Rev.
Upton H. Gibbs of La Grande, at the home of the bride's father, Wm.
H. Stafford, in Union at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, November 9. The bride is a young lady who was raised in Union, and has scores of relatives and friends in this place and over the valley. The groom is a well to do young man of Ontario, Oregon.
Mr. and Mrs. Todd took the morning train for Ontario, where they will reside, being at home after December 1st. The good wishes of many friends follow Mr. and Mrs. Todd to their new home. May they be happy.—Union Republican.

Miss Hazel McCrary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCrary was married at Baker City last Wednesday evening. The wedding was attended by friends from Baker City and Mrs. Ray Williams of this city.

The groom is Fred Cavin, a popular and estimable young business man in Baker City and they will make their future home there. Miss Mc-Crary was long distance telephone operator for the Pacific Telephone company here and has lived in La Grande for some time. Her many friends join in congratulations.

The Billiken club gave the third party of its series last Tuesday evening, and, as usual, it was the stellar social attraction of the week.
Dancing parties have been numerous so far this season but the Billiken parties have invariably been well attended. The last of the series will be given soon.

The Misses Grace and Nell Pickens last Wednesday evening entertained complimentary to Miss Anna Tullis of Pendleton. The event was informal and very enjoyable to the guests. The guest of honor was formerly a La Grande girl.

The Junior Endeavor girls of the Central Christian church gave a program last evening at the church to a fair sized crowd. The program consisted of readings, solos, dialogues, a play and a drill. The girls showed excellent training. Over $10.00 was realized.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Van Buren and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Carr entertained the Kaffee Klatch last evening at the Van Buren home. Mrs. T. J. Scroggin and E. E. Bragg won the honors.

The German Verein meets tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the K. of P. hall. All Germans are invited.

Mrs. J. C. Gulling was hostess to the Bridge club this week. Mrs. Van Buren took the prizes.

Rice and Salt.

To prevent salt in salt bottles from becoming damp and lumpy when filling them put in ten or twelve pieces of rice. This will not come through the holes in the cover of the saltcellars, but will break the lumps and gather the moisture. Thus the salt is always dry and fine.

English Coronations.

For a long time in English history white has been considered the unlucky color for coronations. Charles I. wore white vestments when he was crowned.

Coal in Scotland.

Directly or indirectly one-tenth of the population of Scotland is supported by coal, with an output of about 40,000,000 tons a year. Average wages of the miners are between $8 and $9 a week.

Electric Shocks.

Volt for volt the direct or straight current is more deadly than the alternating. There is always tiny bleeding in the brain in bad electric shock, so it is a mistake to lay the shocked ones with the head low, for this increases the many little deadly bleedings in the brain.

Ink on Marble.

Try removing ink stains from marble with lemon juice.

The Wig.

The wig is older than civilization, for the savage used one to make him more formidable on the field of battle.
The French revolution killed the article as a piece of headgear. Before the guillotine fell in France the wigs which adorned the heads of its victims cost $150 to $200.

Telegrams in Japan.

Japanese telegrams are sent on white paper and received on red. The receiving sheet folds up and becomes its own envelope.

Wolves.

The wolf in England disappeared about 1490. In Scotland wolves were numerous in 1577. According to Pennant they became extinct in 1680.

Winter.

Winter is coming! The days now are high When we'll weep as we view the coal pile getting scant.
When we'll tremble each morning and sit-tfully sigh
As we open an egg from some cold storage plant.

—Detroit Free Press.

Jeweled Environment.

"She's a jewel of a girl, isn't she?"
"Ought to be. Came from the Emerald Isle, eats diamondback terrapin and pets a ruby spaniel."—Baltimore American.
